Tradition. Defined as a long accepted custom or belief.

As the oldest sport on the University of Alabama campus, baseball is smothered with tradition.

Alabama has won 25 conference championships, including a league-best 14 Southeastern Conference baseball championships. The Crimson Tide has also won seven SEC Tournament championships, played in 19 NCAA Regionals and made five trips to the College World Series, including two national championship game appearances.

Alabama has produced more than 100 professional baseball players, with an SEC-leading 60 reaching the Major Leagues. The Crimson Tide has also had three Major League managers, with Luke Sewell leading the St. Louis Browns to their only World Series title in 1942.

The Crimson Tide's present day Major League roster is an impressive one. Alabama had as many as seven Major League players last year, including first-timers David Robertson (New York Yankees), Tommy Hunter (Texas Rangers) and Wade LeBlanc (San Diego Padres). The 2008 list of Major Leaguers also included Andy Phillips (Cincinnati Reds), Lance Cormier (Baltimore Orioles), Taylor Tankersley (Florida Marlins) and Paul Phillips (Chicago White Sox).

The list does not stop there as three members of the Tide's 1983 College World Series team have made their mark on the professional game. The 1983 SEC Player of the Year and Golden Spikes Award winner David Magadan serves as the hitting coach for the Boston Red Sox. Craig Shipley, who was the first modern-day Australian to play in the Major Leagues, is the Vice President and Director of International Scouting for the Red Sox. Alan Dunn serves as the bullpen coach for the Baltimore Orioles.

The Crimson Tide's illustrious tradition will be remembered throughout the 2009 season. Alabama is coming off a historic three-game exhibition series in Havana, Cuba, against a team of Cuban Collegiate All-Stars. The three-game series at Estadio Latinoamericano proved beneficial in a number of ways and the Tide learned a lot about itself during its seven-day trip during the Christmas break. Alabama head coach Jim Wells was recently inducted in the Alabama Baseball Coaches Association (AlaBCA) Hall of Fame at a ceremony on Jan. 16, at the Birmingham Marriott. Wells was joined in the Class of 2009 by Randy Putman (Wallace State-Hanceville), Rick Patterson (Hueytown High School) and Ron Nelson (Central-Phenix City High School).

Wells also received the AlaBCA Division I Coach of the Year Award after leading the Crimson Tide to a 35-28 record and the school's 19th NCAA Regional appearance last season. He was also the organization's Coach of the Year in 1997, 1999, 2002 and 2006.

The AlaBCA Hall of Fame is the second honor for the Crimson Tide head coach. He was inducted into the Northwestern State Hall of Fame in 2004 and his jersey No. 17 was also retired by his alma mater.

Wells shared the platform at the AlaBCA convention with former Tide baseball letterman Jerry Belk, the recipient of 2009 AlaBCA Distinguished Service Award. Belk is the former director of the Tuscaloosa County Parks and Recreation Center and has served as head coach at several Tuscaloosa high schools. He was also the head coach for the Tuscaloosa Post 34 team that captured the 1968 American Legion National Championship.

Finally, the 2009 season marks the 100th anniversary of the Crimson Tide's first baseball championship. Coach JWH Pollard led the Crimson Tide to a 19-3 record and the Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association (SIAA) championship in 1909. The team also posted a 15-game winning streak. This season also marks the 75th anniversary of Alabama's first SEC Championship in 1934. Coach J.B. Whitworth directed the Tide to a 13-5 overall record and a 13-3 conference mark for the first of 14 SEC Championships at UA.

Now that is tradition. Roll Tide!

There is no doubt that Joe Sewell was one of the finest baseball players to ever play for the Alabama Crimson Tide. He was surrounded by an all-star cast of players that produced some of the greatest seasons in Crimson Tide lore. As UA's starting second baseman from 1918-20, Sewell teamed with another future Major League shortstop, Riggs Stephenson to form a solid double-play combination. Also, Sewell and Stephenson were regarded as two of the hardest hitters in baseball.

Sewell played on teams that posted a 42-4 (.913) record against college teams. Overall, the Crimson Tide went 44-8 (.846) en route to three Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association titles in 1918, 1919 and 1920. The 1918 team featured five future MLB players -- Sewell, Stephenson, Dan Boone, Francis Pratt and Lena Stiles. They posted a 13-4 record, including a 13-2 mark against college teams. The 1919 team was just as successful, as Alabama went 16-2, including a 15-1 slate against college teams. The Tide won its third straight SIAA title with a 15-2 record in 1920, including a 14-1 mark against college teams.

Sewell was the cornerstone on those successful Bama teams. In 1920, he set every hitting and fielding record at Alabama and was named to the All-SIAA team and every mythical All-America team college baseball had to offer. He batted over .300 but even more impressive was his defensive prowess at second base. He was also captain of the 1920 team.

After leading UA to the 1920 SIAA title, Sewell signed with Cleveland and played in New Orleans in the Southern League, leading them to the AA Championship. Sewell was then called up to the big leagues, where he replaced Ray Chapman, who was struck in the face and accidentally killed by a submarine pitch, and became the Indians starting shortstop and helped the Indians to the 1920 World Series championship over the Brooklyn Nationals.

Sewell played 14 years in the big leagues for Cleveland and the New York Yankees, where he was Lou Gehrig's roommate. He batted .312 during his career as he amassed over 2,200 career hits. Sewell also set Major League Baseball records for fewest strikeouts in a season (4) and career (114) -- records that will never be broken. He played on two World Series championship teams with Cleveland (1920) and New York Yankees (1932). He was inducted in the MLB Hall of Fame in 1977.

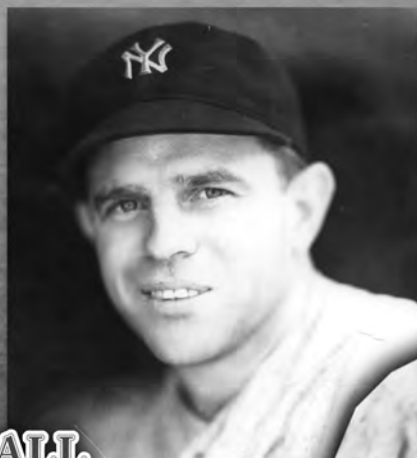

Sewell returned to Alabama in 1964, at the age of 65, to coach the Crimson Tide baseball team. He compiled a 106-79 (.603) overall record in five seasons. He was forced to retire after the 1969 season at the state mandatory retirement age of 70. He led the 1968 team to a 24-14 record and the SEC Championship.

As president of The University of Alabama, Dr. Robert E. Witt has committed the University to an ambitious plan for growth and achievement. His goals include increasing enrollment to 28,000 students by 2010 and stimulating significant growth in research in support of economic expansion for the state and nation. Under his leadership, enrollment has reached record levels and academic quality has increased significantly. The University ranks 12th nationally among public universities in the enrollment of National Merit Scholars and leads the nation in the number of students named to USA Today's All-USA College Academic Teams. Since its inception in 2003, the University's Honors College has grown exponentially, enrolling more than 1,000 freshmen in 2007. Dr. Witt has also led a major building program on campus with 20 new facilities opening in the last five years. Private giving to the University is at an all-time high with supporters embracing the "Our Students. Our Future" capital campaign and its major goal of improving scholarship opportunities for deserving students.

Now in his sixth year as president, Dr. Witt came to UA with 35 years experience in the University of Texas system. He received his B.A. in economics from Bates College, his M.B.A. from Tuck School at Dartmouth College, and his Ph.D. from Penn State University. He currently chairs the board of directors of the West Alabama Chamber of Commerce, serves on the board of directors of the Black Warrior Council Boy Scouts of America and is a member of the Tuscaloosa County Industrial Development Authority. Dr. Witt and his wife Sandee have two grandchildren.

Seven Students Named to USA Today's All-USA College Academic Team – Seven University of Alabama students were named to the 2008 USA Today All-USA College Academic Team, the most of any school. This year's team brings UA's total for the last six years to 31, a figure that tops all other colleges and universities. In addition to this year, UA had the most students on the list in 2006 with six and in 2005 and 2003, both with five. In 2007, UA tied with Washington University-St. Louis for the most team members with four. In 2004, with four students on the team, UA came in second only to Harvard. Pictured (L-R) are Renee Rivas, Jackson Switzer, Dana Lewis, Dylan Whisenhunt, Adam Harbison, Michelle McGaha and Alex Flachsbart.

Normally, the naming of a building in your honor would serve as a fitting end to an outstanding career, but Mal Moore's ongoing vision remains focused on two primary objectives: elevating athletic facilities at the Capstone to premier status nationally for all sports and making all Crimson Tide athletic teams competitive at the highest level nationally.

Moore's distinguished record of service to UA began almost 50 years ago when he joined the Crimson Tide football squad as a scholarship player for Coach Paul "Bear" Bryant from 1958-62. He earned a bachelor's degree in sociology in 1962 and a master's in secondary education in 1963. Moore has the distinction of earning seven national championship rings during his career as a player and coach, the first as a member of the Crimson Tide's 1961 national championship team.

During his coaching tenure, Moore served as Coach Bryant's graduate assistant in 1964, then as defensive backfield coach for five years beginning in 1965 before becoming quarterbacks coach from 1971-1982 and taking on additional responsibility as the Tide's first offensive coordinator in 1975. He is the only individual connected with the Alabama coaching staffs, both past and present, to be a part of seven national championships (1961, 1964, 1965, 1973, 1978, 1979, and 1992). After coaching stops at Montana State, Notre Dame and the NFL's

St. Louis and Phoenix Cardinals, Moore returned to Alabama and was named assistant athletics director in 1993 and associate director for external affairs in 1994. He was named director of athletics on Nov. 23, 1999.

Three elements of his story make Mal Moore deserving of a special place in UA athletics history. First, he has been a part of seven national championship football teams (as a player and coach). Second, he's been the leader who brought the UA athletic program into the 21st century in terms of facilities and staffing. Third and, perhaps most importantly, his love for the University of Alabama is unsurpassed.

Now in his 10th year as the Tide's Director of Athletics, Moore made an indelible mark on one of the nation's most storied athletic programs. Alabama's athletic teams have excelled in competition and he directed completion of a $125 million facilities campaign that revitalized the Crimson Tide's athletic facilities. Moore's leadership, vision and initiative enabled the monumental project to reach fruition.

A 1963 graduate of The University of Alabama, Moore holds both an undergraduate degree in Sociology and a 1964 Master's Degree in Secondary Education from the Capstone. A scholarship player for Coach Paul W. "Bear" Bryant, Moore was a member of Alabama's 1961 national championship team.

Under Moore's direction Alabama's athletic teams have produced a number of Southeastern Conference titles, including men's basketball, gymnastics, baseball men's golf and softball and SEC tournament titles in both baseball and softball, and an NCAA gymnastics title. Alabama athletes have earned some of the highest honors the SEC and NCAA have to offer, including SEC Athlete of the Year, SEC Scholar-Athlete of the Year, NCAA Top VIII, NCAA Postgraduate Scholarships and NCAA Sportsman of the Year. These honors are over and above the individual conference and national titles that Alabama athletes continue to bring home to the Capstone.

Coaching football for 31 years, 22 of those at Alabama, provided Moore with a wealth of experience and knowledge in the world of college athletics. Alabama won national championships in 1964, 1965, 1973, 1978, 1979 and 1992 with Moore coordinating all the offensive plays for the last four of those championship teams.

Moore was born December 19, 1939, in Dozier, Ala. He has been married to the former Charlotte Davis of Tuscaloosa since July 20, 1968. They have one daughter, Mrs. Steve (Heather) Cook of Scottsdale, Ariz., a granddaughter, Anna Lee, and a grandson, Charles Cannon.

Viva El Beisbol!

HAVANA, Cuba – Despite the language barriers and vast cultural differences, the game of baseball brought the University of Alabama and Cuba together for a historic three-game exhibition series at legendary Estadio Latinoamericano on December 16-18, 2008, in Havana.

The series served as a learning experience for more than just the game of baseball. The Tide players saw how the Cubans lived off the field and how they approached the game of baseball.

"I think it did a lot for the team," Alabama head coach Jim Wells said. "I think it affected a lot of these guys in a positive way and they saw a side of life they have never seen or may never see again."

"I think it touched them. In baseball terms, they saw the joy that those guys played with. There were many things that were positive from this trip, but that one thing really sticks out to me."

The UA players agreed.

"We saw a lot, and it really made me appreciate (the game)," said Crimson Tide senior Brandon May. "I have been to Venezuela and the Dominican Republic before and every one of those trips has been remarkable. The people were really nice and seemed really appreciative that we were here."

"We weren't sure what the people were going to be like," said Tide outfielder Kent Matthes, who hit a two-run homer in the opening-game tie. "We had some mixed reviews going in about what our experience would be like. I'd say the people have been real nice. They played our national anthem. They applauded for us when we went on the field. It's a beautiful place with a lot of history.

"I live in Florida so I am used to the Spanish music and the Spanish language and not always being able to understand what people are saying. But it was still different here."

In short, it was an eye-opening experience.

"I got a taste of that four or five years ago when I went with Andy Phillips to the Dominican Republic," Wells added. "That was eye-opening to me. So this time it was not totally new to me, because I had seen it before. I think the kids got a lot out of it."

On the field, the Tide ran into a major league quality team and despite two losses and one tie, the Tide held it own against a quality opponent.

"They are an outstanding team, especially the pitching," Wells said. "We won't see pitching like that in our season, not two on the same team, except possibly in Omaha. They would be a great, great college team. But that was part of what we wanted, to be tested by the competition."

"I thought it was a real good team. There is no way we could play better outside competition. They seemed to have a minimum of three major league-type players. I guess you would put the others on a Triple-A or Double-A level. The competition was incredible. I thought we played with them. That shows we have a good team, because if not, they would have beaten us up pretty good."

Alabama and Cuba played to a 3-3 tie in the series opener as freshman centerfielder Taylor Dugas threw out the winning run at the plate in the bottom of the ninth inning. The next two games Cuba used some timely hitting and a strong bullpen to beat the Tide 6-2 and 7-5.

"It's a different style of play," May said. "They were fundamentally sound and made all the plays, but they all do it in a different way. Their atmosphere is a lot more relaxed."

"They seem to be playing for the joy, the fun in it. The atmosphere in the (Southeastern Conference) is a lot more intense. For them, it's like they are just playing in their backyard. That's just their style. They are still very good players."

Alabama hit only .182 in the three-game wooden bat series, but launched the series, only home run in game one when Matthes knotted the score with a two-run blast in the fourth inning. Junior Clay Jones was the Tide's leading hitter, going 3-for-6 (.500) in two games at first base. Matthes was the second-leading hitter with a .286 (2-for-7) average, while sophomore shortstop Josh Rutledge (3-for-12) and junior DH Del Howell (1-for-4) both hit .250 in the series. Sophomore second baseman Ross Wilson added two hits and two RBI in the series.

On the mound, Cuba ran out several quality arms, all with upper 90-mile per hour fastballs. The Cubans posted a 2.67 ERA in the series and added 27 strikeouts in 27 innings en route to a pair of wins and two saves. Alabama was not overshadowed with its 3.46 ERA in three games. Much of the damage against the UA pitchers came in the sixth inning of the final game when Cuba scored six runs to erase a 5-1 deficit.

Alabama used 13 pitchers in the series, including seniors Austin Hyatt and Miers Quigley and freshman Adam Morgan as the starters. Juniors Del Howell, Adam Scott and Scott Hays and sophomore Jimmy Nelson all had two appearances out of the bullpen.

"It's an exhibition, but you're also trying to get everybody in the game, but also put guys in situations that you will put them in during the spring," Wells said. "We accomplished what we wanted to accomplish and we see where we are right now."

It was a great experience for the Crimson Tide. It offered a chance to bond as a team, see a different side of life not seen in the United States and a chance to improve its baseball skills against a quality opponent.

"I think it was a good thing," Wells concluded. "I think it's something we could look at again in the future."

After all baseball is a universal language.

Game One – Alabama 3, Cuba 3 (Dec. 16, 2008)

University of Alabama baseball senior Kent Matthes had two hits, including a two-run home run, and the Crimson Tide got some excellent relief pitching and late-inning defense to throw out the winning run at the plate in the bottom ninth inning to preserve a 3-3 tie with the Cuban Collegiate All-Stars in game one of this historic "Friendship Tournament" at the Stadium of Latin America in Havana, Cuba Tuesday afternoon.

Both Cuba and Alabama had game-winning chances in the final two innings. In the bottom of the ninth inning freshman center fielder Taylor Dugas fielded Adalberto Ibarra's one-out single off junior Scott Hays and threw to first baseman Wes Henderson, who fired a strike to catcher Vin DiFazio to tag out pinch-hitter Henry Urritia at the plate to keep the game tied. Junior right hander Adam Scott then got David Castillo to fly out to Dugas in center to end the game.

Alabama got solid pitching in the game from starter Austin Hyatt and four relievers - Del Howell, Nelson, Scott Hays and Adam Scott.

UA shortstop Josh Rutledge led off the top of eighth inning with a base hit, but was stranded at second base to keep the game knotted at 3-3.

Cuba loaded the bases with one out in the eighth inning before sophomore Jimmy Nelson thwarted the rally with some clutch pitching. Nelson pitched out of a bases-loaded jam in the bottom of the eighth to keep the game tied. The inning began as pinch-hitter David Castillo drew a lead-off walk from junior left-hander Del Howell. Leonys Martin followed with a single up the middle to put runners at first and second with no outs.

Nelson replaced Howell and then retired Yoennis Cespedes, who was out at first on a sacrifice bunt. After an intentional walk to Jose Ruiz, Nelson struck out Juan Linares and then got pinch-hitter Adonis Garcia to pop up to Dugas in shallow center field to end the threat.

A shaky start on defense by Alabama led to three unearned runs in the bottom of the first inning to stake Cuban Collegiate All-Stars to a 3-0 lead. Three errors and a wild pitch led to all three runs scored for Cuba. UA second baseman Ross Wilson, third baseman Jake Smith and DiFazio were charged with errors in the first inning. Left fielder Juan Linares had the only hit in the inning for Cuba.

Alabama settled down and got one run back in the third inning when Wilson's two-out single to center scored center fielder Alex Kubal from second base to make it 3-1.

The Crimson Tide added two more runs in the fourth inning to tie the game at 3-3. Designated hitter Kyle Moore drew a one-out, four-pitch walk and scored on right fielder Kent Matthes' towering, two-run home run to left field.

Alabama starter Austin Hyatt allowed three unearned runs and two hits in five innings in the series opener. He added five strikeouts and walked one batter before reaching his pitch-limit in the fifth inning. Hyatt threw 84 pitches in his outing against Cuba. After a two-out walk to Jose Abreu in the first inning, Hyatt retired 13 of the next 14 batters, including his last eight in a row. Howell relieved Hyatt and pitched two scoreless innings. He allowed two hits, walked one and struck out two batters.

Cuba starter Yuleski Gonzalez, who is one of Cuba's top pitchers and pitched in the 2008 World Baseball Classic in San Diego, Calif., worked six innings and allowed three runs and four hits before being replaced by Vladimir Banos. Gonzalez added two walks and struck out seven Alabama batters in his 80-pitch performance.

Game Two – Cuba 6, Alabama 2 (Dec. 17, 2008)

The Cuban Collegiate All-Stars used a three-run third inning to defeat the University of Alabama baseball team, 6-2, in game two of the 2008 Friendship Tournament at Latin American Stadium Wednesday afternoon in Havana, Cuba. Center fielder Yoennis Cespedes delivered the big blow with a two-run double in the third inning.

Cuba (1-0-1) out-hit Alabama 11-4 in the win and six of the nine starters had at least one hit. Third baseman Adonis Garcia went 3 for 4 with two stolen bases and scored one run to pace the Cuban All-Star attack. Shortstop David Castillo had two hits, one stolen base and scored one run.

For the second straight day Cuba (1-0-1) jumped out to a 3-0 lead, taking advantage of a pair of walks in the third inning. The three-run inning began when UA starter Miers Quigley walked Henry Urruita. After striking out Yolexis LaRosa, Quigley walked Adalberto Ibarra before Castillo reached on a bunt single to load the bases with one out. Leonys Martin drove in the game's first run with a sacrifice fly to left, scoring Urruita from third base. Cespedes capped the inning with his two-run double off the left field wall.

Quigley (0-1) allowed three runs and five hits in four innings and took the loss for the Tide. In all, Alabama used six pitchers including sophomore Austin Evans, junior David Head, sophomore Nathan Kilcrease, junior Scott Hays and senior Casey Kebodeaux.

Cuba starter Maikel Forch, a member of the 2008 World Games baseball team, held the Tide to one run on three hits in five innings for the win. He added three walks and struck out two. Jose Garcia worked the final two innings for the save, with four strikeouts.

Alabama pitchers issued six walks and the Tide defense made two more errors in game two. Those miscues resulted in five runs.

The Crimson Tide (0-1-1) tallied its first hit and first run of the game in the bottom of the fourth inning, cutting the lead to 3-1. Sophomore shortstop Josh Rutledge led off the inning with a triple to right-center field and scored on junior left fielder Brandon May's ground out to second base.

Cuba took advantage of a two-out walk and subsequent error in the sixth inning to extend its lead to 4-1. Adonis Garcia led off the inning with a single to left field before junior left-hander David Head retired the next two hitters. Head then issued a two-out walk to No. 9 hitter Adalberto Ibarra and David Castillo reached on Rutledge's throwing error, which allowed Garcia to score on the play.

The Tide pushed a run across in the bottom of the seventh inning to cut the lead to 4-2. Junior first baseman Clay Jones opened the inning with a single up the middle. Jones had two hits and reached base three times in the game. Junior third baseman Jake Smith followed with a 10-pitch at-bat that culminated in a walk. Redshirt freshman Jon Kelton entered the game as a pinch-hitter and laid down a sacrifice bunt to put two runners in scoring position. Freshman centerfielder Taylor Dugas lifted a fly ball to left to easily score Jones from third base to cut the lead in half.

Cuba added a pair of unearned runs in the ninth as Rutledge's second error of the game prolonged the inning and allowed Yoleas LaRosa to cap the scoring with a two-run single.

Game Three – Cuba 7, Alabama 5 (Dec. 18, 2008)

The University of Alabama baseball team had its most productive offensive performance in the final game against the Cuban Collegiate All-Stars in the Friendship Tournament Thursday afternoon, but saw its four-run lead erased by Cuba's six-run sixth inning as the home team took the series final 7-5 at Latin American Stadium in Havana.

Cuba (2-0-1) overcame a 5-1 Crimson Tide lead to win the exhibition series. Alabama (0-2-1) grabbed the early lead with a five-run fifth inning against the more experienced Cuban roster whose average age was nearly 26 years old.

The Cubans had 11 hits in the series finale and were paced by Yolian Crese and Henry Urruita who had two hits and two RBI each. Alabama had six hits, including three doubles, and no player had more than one hit.

Cuba took a 1-0 lead in the bottom of the fourth inning on Reinier Bello's RBI double to score Jose Ruiz, who drew a leadoff walk. The Cubans scored first in all three games.

Alabama took its first lead of the series by scoring five runs on four hits in the top of the fifth inning to take a 5-1 lead. Sophomore designated hitter Del Howell opened the inning with a double into the left field corner and moved to third on senior catcher Vin DiFazio's base hit to left. After junior third baseman Jake Smith struck out, senior center fielder Alex Kubal laced a double into right center field to score Howell with the first run and chase DiFazio to third.

The Tide grabbed its first lead of the series on a two-base throwing error by first baseman Jose Ruiz. Freshman left fielder Taylor Dugas hit a ground ball to Ruiz, who misfired on the throw home allowing DiFazio and Kubal to score the go-ahead runs. Senior right fielder Tyler Odle was hit by a pitch and sophomore shortstop Josh Rutledge followed with an RBI single to right to score Dugas with the fourth run of the inning. Sophomore second baseman Ross Wilson then reached on a fielder's choice to score Odle and give the Tide a 5-1 lead.

Alabama did most of its damage against left-hander Asley Sanchez, who was charged with five runs and four hits in 1 1/3 innings of relief. He was replaced by Yaumier Sanchez, who, with the help of his 94-mile per hour fastball, squelched the Tide rally in the fifth.

After allowing an RBI single to Rutledge in the fifth inning, Yaumier Sanchez (1-0) retired 10 of the next 11 batters he faced for the win. He threw

3 2/3 scoreless innings for the win. He limited the Tide to one hit and struck out five. Vladimir Garcia worked a scoreless ninth with his 92-mile per hour fastball for his second save of the series.

Cuba batted around in the bottom of the sixth inning to score six runs on five hits to grab a 7-5 lead. The damage came against three different Alabama pitchers in the inning. Henry Urruita capped a 10-pitch at-bat against reliever Del Howell with a two-run single up the middle to close the gap to 5-3. Pinch-hitter David Castillo added an RBI double to chase Howell and Yolian Crese followed with a two-run double off sophomore Jimmy Nelson to put Cuba back in front 6-5. Crese later scored on a wild pitch to give Cuba a two-run lead.

Alabama starter Adam Morgan held the Cubans to one run through five innings before running into trouble in the sixth in his UA debut. He issued a leadoff walk to Ruiz in the sixth and then allowed a one-out double to Yunion Paumier before being replaced by Howell. Morgan was charged with three runs and six hits in 5 1/3 innings with two walks and three strikeouts. Howell (0-1) faced three batters in the inning and allowed three runs and three hits to suffer the loss. Nelson replaced Howell and gave up one run and one hit in two-thirds of an inning.

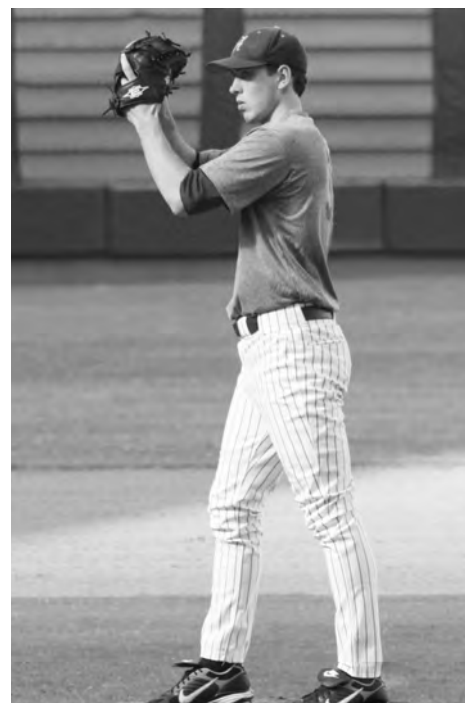

Redshirt freshman Tyler White retired two of three batters he faced in the eighth inning. Junior Adam Scott, who pitched in two of three games, retired the lone batter he faced in the eighth.

Sewell-Thomas Stadium (aka "The Joe") is the place to be for Alabama baseball fans.

The Crimson Tide baseball team played its home games at University Field until the end of the 1947 season. The Tide moved to its present day site when land acquired from Coach Frank Thomas' family was used to create a new field for the Tide baseball squad.

Frank Thomas Field opened on March 26, 1948, as a 2,000-seat facility, which attracted many overflow crowds in the 1950s and 1960s under Coach Tilden "Happy" Campbell and Coach Joe Sewell.

The inaugural game was played on March 26, 1948 with the Crimson Tide beating the Bradley Braves 5-2 in the first game of a doubleheader.

Pitcher Clarence Flack delivered the first pitch at 2:02 p.m. (CT) on that afternoon in the Tide's new baseball home. Dick Dill recorded the first hit at Thomas Field and Jack Rutledge swatted the first home run. Flack was the winning pitcher that afternoon for the Tide. Marvin Blemker also pitched and earned what is known today as a save.

Since the inaugural game in 1947, Sewell-Thomas Stadium has seen plenty of changes, both on and off the field.

The stadium was renamed Sewell-Thomas Field in 1978, honoring former Alabama football and baseball standout and Major League Hall of Famer Joe Sewell.

Alabama played the first night game in school history on March 14, 1981 with a 13-8 victory over Western Kentucky.

The ballpark has undergone two major renovations since it was erected in 1947, with the last coming in 1999. In addition, there are additional plans for future renovations on the both the inside and outside of the stadium.

The original grandstand was completed in time for the 1991 season and the Tide's new ball park held 2,700 fans.

Wesley Construction of Talladega, Ala., built the new facility for $2.1 million and the completion of the permanent grandstand changed the name of the facility to Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

In 1996, bleachers were added down the right field line to raise the stadium's capacity to more than 4,000 as the Crimson Tide hosted its first NCAA Regional that same year.

N.C. Morgan Construction of Tuscaloosa, Ala., is responsible for the most recent additions at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The $4 million expansion project gives the Tide one of the finest home facilities in all of college baseball.

The project, which was completed prior to the 2001 season, involved extending the grandstand down the right-field line. The addition of 2,000 seats raised the stadium capacity to 6,571 seats. The bench seats that filled the upper level of the grandstand were moved to the new addition. Chairback seats, similar to those in the lower level, were installed in the upper level.

The stadium also received three new ticket booths, five new concession stands and five new restrooms for men and women. Two "hawker" stands were added to allow for concession sales in the grandstand.

The players and coaches benefited from the 2001 renovations, too. The Crimson Tide moved into its spacious clubhouse in 2001. The expansion also included three indoor batting cages and pitching machines, a meeting room, training room, equipment room and coaches' offices.

A new stadium entrance was created in the fall of 2005 and a new sound system from All Pro Sound was installed prior to the start of the season. The ball park also got a general facelift with new paint, signs and handrails as part of this $175,000 project.

During the last two seasons, Alabama has added a new sound system and state-of-the-art video board and scoreboard.

The Alabama baseball team returns a veteran squad that includes a 10-man senior class and one the nation's top recruiting classes for the 2009 season. With a good mix of experience and new talent, Alabama head coach Jim Wells has reason to smile as he enters his 15th season in the Crimson Tide dugout.

Alabama returns 12 players that started at least 15 games last season, including eight players with 40 or more starts during last year's 35-28 season that ended with another NCAA Tournament berth. The Crimson Tide's returnees account for more than 70 percent of last year's offense, including 65.5 percent of the home runs, 71.2 percent of the RBI, 76.1 percent of the total hits and 77.5 percent of the runs scored last season.

"The fact that all the position players are back with the exception of (catcher Alex) Avila and (first base Matt) Bentley is a good thing," Wells said. There is a lot of familiarity there."

With the a veteran offensive unit returning for the 2009 season, the question this fall was how good will the Tide be on the mound. Like its offense, Alabama will have a good mix of veterans and newcomers that should produce positive results on the mound. The Crimson Tide returns 71 percent of its wins on the mound from last season, plus 64.1 percent of its appearances, 70.2 percent of innings and 70.9 percent of its strikeouts.

"The fact that all the position players are back with the exception of (catcher Alex) Avila and (first base Matt) Bentley is a good thing. There is a lot of familiarity there."

- Head Coach Jim Wells on the status of his club

"The emphasis to me has been getting the pitching in order," Wells said. "The two main things we needed to work on was catching and pitching and we have had improvements. So we are better now than we were then. We still have more to do. In this league you need a multitude of pitching and you need a steady hand behind the plate. I wouldn't say we are there yet, but we are better than we were."

A major building block for this year's team came in mid-December when the Crimson Tide took a six-day trip to Havana, Cuba for a three-game "Friendship Tournament" exhibition series with a Cuban All-Star team. While the Tide posted a 0-2-1 record against a roster full of top-notch Cuban players, the series served as a measuring stick for Wells and his staff.

"They were an outstanding team, especially the pitching," Wells said. "We won't see pitching like that in our season, not two on the same team. But that was part of what we wanted, to be tested by the competition."

"I thought it was a real good team. There is no way we could play better outside competition. They seemed to have a minimum of three Major League-type players. I guess you would put the others on a Triple-A or Double-A level. The competition was incredible. I thought we played with them. That shows we have a good team, because if not, they would have beaten us up pretty good."

"There is no way we could play better outside competition. The competition was incredible. I thought we played with them. That shows we have a good team."

- Head Coach Jim Wells on the competition in Cuba

The Crimson Tide returns a solid nucleus of players that include utility-man Brandon May, who has been named to the 2009 National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA) Preseason All-American team. May, who is also a member of the 2009 Brooks Wallace Award Watch List, has started 87 consecutive games at Alabama. He worked this fall at first base, third base, left field and designated hitter.

The Crimson Tide returns second baseman Ross Wilson, shortstop Josh Rutledge and third baseman Jake Smith.

Wilson hit .295 (76 for 258) last season with an Alabama freshman record-tying 15 home runs and 47 RBI. He was also named to the 2008 Conway (S.C.) Regional Team, after swatting three home runs in three NCAA Regional games for the Tide.

Rutledge was a 2008 Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball Freshman All-American after hitting a team-best .369 (99-for-268) with 31 RBI and 62 runs scored. He is the first freshman to lead Alabama in hitting since David Magadan posted a freshman school-record .389 average in 1981. Rutledge also led the SEC with 91 hits during the regular season and set the UA freshman record for longest hitting streak.

Smith is a standout defensive third baseman and earned a spot on the 2008 SEC All-Defensive Team as a sophomore after making just 10 errors in 63 games. He also hit .240 with eight home runs and 34 RBI last season, but was one of the Tide's most improved offensive players this fall.

Senior Wes Henderson and junior college transfer Clay Jones will complete for the starting job at first base. Henderson hit .312 (11-for-29) with two home runs and five RBI in 21 games last season, mainly as a defensive specialist at first base. Jones hit a whopping .394 (172-for-436) with 18 home runs and 111 RBI in two years at Shelton State Community College. He was an American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) First-Team All-American in 2007 and led the Bucs to back-to-back National Junior College Athletic Association (NJCAA) World Series appearances in 2007 and 2008. His younger brother, Ben, is true freshman and starting offensive lineman at the University of Georgia.

Replacing Alex Avila behind the plate will fall on the shoulders of seniors Kyle Moore and Vin DiFazio and junior Cody Trotter. Moore played in 22 games last season and made 15 starts. He hit .322 with one home run and eight RBI and showed a steady hand behind the plate this fall. DiFazio has essentially missed the last two seasons with numerous injuries, but was the catching surprise of fall camp with his ability to throw runners out. Trotter is a transfer from Itawamba (Miss.) Community College, where he hit .293 with four home runs and 38 RBI in 78 games.

The outfield has a lot of talent and experience, with seniors Alex Kubal, Kent Matthes, Tyler Odle and Ryan Rhoden, along with freshman Taylor Dugas.

Kubal and Matthes are both solid defenders as well as offensive threats. Kubal hit .329 (48-for-126) in 54 games last season with four home runs and 23 RBI. He was also one of the league's top defenders who can cover a lot of ground in centerfield. Matthes is also one of the league's top outfielders as evidenced by his numerous highlight-reel catches in right field over the course of the last three years. In addition to his team-leading seven outfield assists, Matthes hit .303 with 11 home runs and 52 RBI, one of his most productive offensive seasons at UA.

Odle and Rhoden provide veteran leadership and could also be valuable assets off the bench in key pinch-hitting roles, as well. Odle hit .288 with four home runs and 24 RBI in 48 games last season, while Rhoden hit .276 with one home run and 17 RBI in 32 games.

Dugas stood out among the newcomers with a tremendous fall in the outfield and at the plate. A 2008 Louisville Slugger/Collegiate Baseball High School All-American, Dugas posted a .518 (176-for-340) career batting average with 19 home runs and 159 RBI in four years at Teurlings Catholic high school in Lafayette, La. He also scored 187 runs and added 51 doubles, 51 stolen bases and 17 triples in his prep career.

"The outfield and infield are pretty solid," Wells said.

The Crimson Tide returns nine pitchers off last year's staff, including six with 14 or more appearances in 2008.

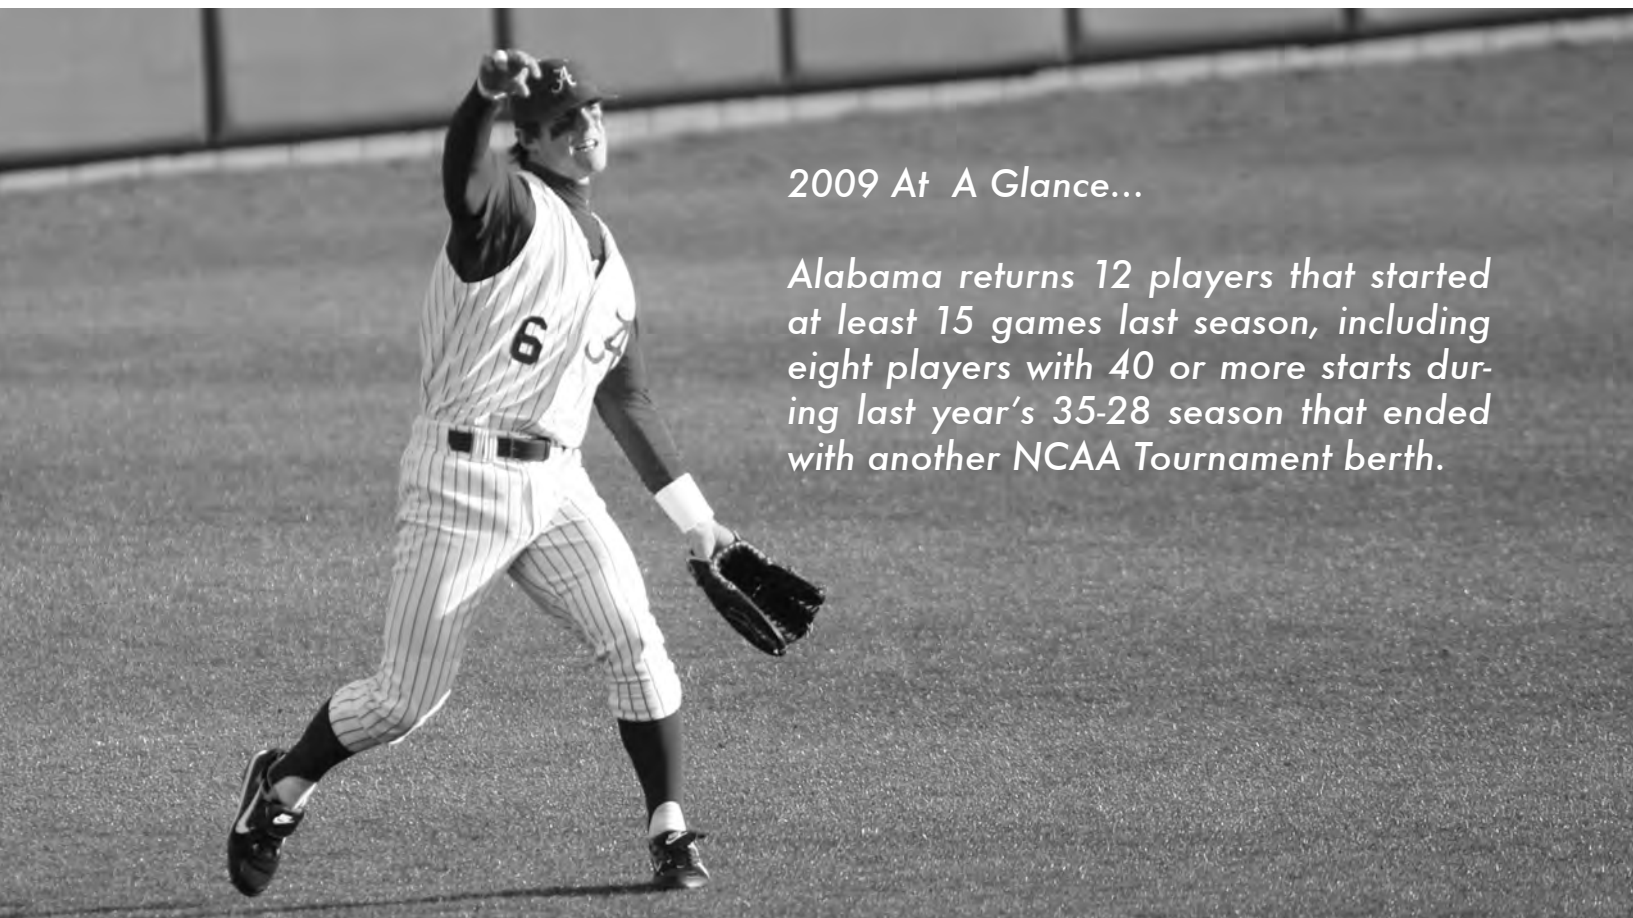

Seniors Austin Hyatt (17 G, 5-4, 4.53 ERA) and Miers Quigley (16 G, 5-4, 5.58 ERA) should be staples in the Tide's five-man rotation this season. Other potential starters are senior Casey Kebodeaux (15 G, 2-5, 6.64 ERA), junior Austin Graham (24 G, 6-2, 5.25 ERA, 4 SV), sophomore Jimmy Nelson (18 G, 3-3, 6.26 ERA) and true freshman Adam Morgan, a lefty, who had a stellar fall on the mound.

Nelson was rated as the No. 3 prospect in the Texas Collegiate League this summer and may be more suited for a relief role this season. He made two relief appearances in Cuba, including one pressure-packed outing in game one that stranded the winning run on base in the eighth inning.

In addition, the bullpen should be anchored by junior left-hander David Head, who could see action as both starter and reliever. A transfer from Chattahoochee Valley Community College, Head was 13-6 (.650) with a 2.97 ERA in his two-year career. He has the experience to step in and be a front-line pitcher this season.

Another lefty is junior Del Howell, who was voted the No. 1 prospect in the Texas Collegiate League this summer. Howell compiled a 2-2 record and 2.41 ERA with four saves for the McKinney (Texas) Marshals this summer, where he earned a spot on the TCL All-Star Team. Howell is the Tide's lone two-way player and could see time in the outfield or as a left-hand hitting DH or pinch-hitter.

2009 At A Glance...

Alabama returns 12 players that started at least 15 games last season, including eight players with 40 or more starts during last year's 35-28 season that ended with another NCAA Tournament berth.

A pair of Shelton State transfers could also bolster the UA pitching staff. Right-hander Adam Scott and left-hander Jonathan Smart pitched on back-to-back NJCAA World Series teams in 2007 and 2008. Scott was 13-5 (.722) with six saves and a 3.01 ERA in 55 career games for the Bucs. Smart, an ABCA First-Team All-American in 2007, was 19-4 (.826) with a 2.66 ERA in his junior college career. Smart missed the fall with an injury and his status for the season remains uncertain.

Scott Hays, a lefty from Odessa (Texas) College, will also compete for a role in the bullpen after a good fall and two solid relief outings in Cuba.

The Crimson Tide will also have the services of sophomores Nathan Kilcrease, Austin Evans and redshirt freshman Tyler White, who led the Wilmington (N.C.) Sharks with 15.5 strikeouts per nine innings this summer in the wooden-bat Coastal Plain League.

CRIMSON TIDE BASEBALL EARNS PRESEASON RANKING

The Alabama baseball team has been named to the 2009 Collegiate Baseball News "Fabulous 40", the newspaper announced in its annual preseason poll Tuesday, Dec. 23. The Crimson Tide is ranked 40th in the preseason rankings and is one of six Southeastern Conference teams ranked in CBN's Fab 40. In addition, all 12 SEC schools received votes in the preseason poll, the only conference in college baseball to make that claim.

MAY, RUTLEDGE NAMED TO NCBWA ALL-AMERICAN TEAM

Alabama junior Brandon May and sophomore Josh Rutledge were named to the 2009 National Collegiate Baseball Writers Association (NCBWA) Preseason All-American Team. May and Rutledge were second-team selections by the NCBWA.

"Brandon and Josh are certainly deserving of this honor," Alabama head coach Jim Wells said. "They both had an exceptional year last year, and we hope they can continue that success this season and help our team be successful. We feel like this team has a chance to be a pretty good team with a lot of veteran players like May and Rutledge."

May has played in 112 games in his UA career and earned 104 starts. He has played in 87 consecutive games, the longest active streak on the team. He owns a .328 (131 for 400) batting average with nine home runs and 63 RBI. He is expected to hit in the middle of talented Alabama lineup this spring and has worked at both corner infield and outfield positions this fall. He was a 2008 first-team All-SEC selection after hitting .365 (92 for 252) with nine home runs and 50 RBI in 62 games. He led the Tide with four, four-hit games, 18 doubles and 31 multi-hit games as a sophomore.

Rutledge is coming off a stellar freshman season that earned him freshman All-America and All-SEC honors. He hit .369 (99 for 268) last year to become the second freshman in school history to lead the Tide in hitting, joining David Magadan, who turned in a UA freshman record .389 batting average in 1981. Rutledge also led the team in hits (99), runs scored (62), multi-hit games (31) and stolen bases (16). He wrapped up the regular season with an SEC-leading 91 hits and led the league with 51 hits in 30 conference games. His .406 SEC batting average was second to South Carolina's Justin Smaok, a first-round draft pick of the Texas Rangers.

Alabama was one of 11 schools with multiple players on the NCBWA preseason All-American squad. Miami (Fla.), North Carolina and UC Irvine led the way with three each, followed by Alabama, Arizona State, Elon, Georgia Southern, Louisville, Missouri State, Tennessee and Texas-San Antonio with two each. The Crimson Tide was one of seven SEC schools with representation on the team and joins Tennessee as the only SEC team with multiple selections. Georgia, Florida, LSU, Mississippi and Vanderbilt each placed one player on the team.

BRANDON MAY NAMED TO WALLACE AWARD WATCH LIST

May was also named to the 2009 Brooks Wallace

Award Watch List, the College Baseball Foundation and Hall of Fame announced in December.

The Wallace Award has been presented annually since 2004 to the best college baseball player. The award is dedicated to the memory of former Texas Tech player and assistant coach Brooks Wallace. Wallace was a slick-fielding shortstop at Texas Tech from 1977 to 1980. A four-year starter, he was named All-Southwest Conference and All-District his senior year. He led the Red Raiders to their first-ever appearance in the Southwest Conference Tournament in 1980.

"Brandon May is certainly deserving of this recognition," Alabama head coach Jim Wells said. "He is an outstanding player. He had a great year for us last year, hitting in the middle of the lineup, and we expect good things from him this season. He is also one of the leaders on this team."

A First-Team All-SEC selection in 2008 by the league's head coaches, May was second on the team with a .365 (92 for 252) average with nine home runs and 50 RBI in a team-high 63 games played. He also led Alabama with 18 doubles. In 30 SEC games, he batted .369 (45 for 122) with seven home runs and 18 RBI.

In 112 career games, May has compiled a .328 (131 for 400) batting average with nine home runs and 63 RBI. He enters the 2009 season with 87 consecutive starts, the longest active streak among Tide players. During his two-year career, he has started nine post-season games and is hitting .306 (11 for 36) with one double, five RBI and seven runs scored.

DEL HOWELL NAMED TOP PROSPECT IN TEXAS COLLEGIATE LEAGUE

University of Alabama junior Del Howell has been named the No. 1 overall prospect in the Texas Collegiate League this summer, according to PGcrosschecker.com, in a survey of professional scouts and summer league coaches.

Howell pitched this summer for the McKinney (Texas) Marshals and earned all-star accolades after helping the Marshals win the TCL regular season and post-season championship.

In 14 games, Howell was 2-2 with four saves and a 2.41 ERA. The Tuscaloosa native was third in the league in saves (4), third in the league in strikeouts (47) and fifth in ERA (2.41). He worked 33 2/3 innings and allowed nine earned runs and 23 hits, with 19 walks and 47 strikeouts. He held opponents to a .188 batting average and was named to the TCL All-Star team.

In his first two seasons at UA, Howell has made eight appearances on the mound with three starts. He is 1-1 with an 8.14 ERA. His best outing for the Crimson Tide came in the 2008 SEC Tournament, where he allowed three runs and seven hits in 6 2/3 innings in his first career post-season start in a win over Kentucky at Regions Park.

TIDE TRIO EARNS NORTHWOODS LEAGUE TITLE

Three University of Alabama baseball players - outfielder Alex Kubal, pitcher Austin Evans and infielder Jon Kelton - led the Thunder Bay (Ontario) Border Cats to the best record in the Northwoods League, clinching the Northern Division title and home-field advantage throughout the playoffs, which begin Tuesday night.

The Border Cats posted a league-best 42-26 overall record, including a 23-11 mark in the second half, en route to the Northern Division title. The Border Cats will take on Mankato in a best-of-three series in the first round of the playoffs. Wisconsin and Madison will meet in the other first round series. The two winners will meet in a best-of-three series for the 2008 Northwoods League championship, beginning Friday, Aug. 15.

Kubal played in 46 games for the Border Cats and hit .274 (46 for 168) with five extra base hits, 19 RBI and 23 runs scored in the wooden-bat league. He started 43 games in the outfield and committed only one error all summer.

Kelton played in 52 games and hit .225 with six extra base hits, including one home run, 19 RBI and 24 runs scored. He started 29 games in the outfield and 14 games at second base. Defensively, Kelton made only one error the entire summer.

Evans posted a 3-1 record and 2.95 ERA in his 13 appearances on the mound this summer. He also made four starts. The right-hander worked 39 2/3 innings and allowed 13 earned runs and 27 hits with 22 walks and 31 strikeouts. Evans was third on the team in total appearances.

TIDE TRIO LEADS MCKINNEY TO TEXAS COLLEGIATE LEAGUE CHAMPIONSHIP

A trio of University of Alabama players - pitchers Jimmy Nelson and Del Howell and third baseman Jake Smith - helped the McKinney (Texas) Marshals to the 2008 Texas Collegiate League regular season championship with a 26-20 overall record.

The Marshals are the top seed in the TCL Playoffs, which begin tonight. The Marshals will face the Brazos Valley Bombers in game one of the best-of-three series in College Station, Texas. Games two and three (if necessary) will be played in McKinney on Wednesday, Aug. 6 and Thursday, Aug. 7. The McKinney-Brazos Valley winner will meet the Coppell-East Texas series winner for the TCL championship later this week.

Nelson was named the TCL Freshman of the Year after posting a 3-2 record and 2.55 ERA and a league-leading 66 strikeouts. Nelson made 11 appearances, including nine starts, and worked 49 1/3 innings and allowed 14 earned runs and 34 hits with 23 walks and 66 strikeouts. He held opponents to a .188 batting average and was also named to the TCL All-Star team. Nelson was also fourth in the TCL in innings pitched.

Howell had a solid summer on the mound for the Marshals. In 14 games, Howell was 2-2 with four saves and 2.41 ERA. The Tuscaloosa native was third in the league in saves (4), third in the league in strikeouts (47) and fifth in ERA (2.41). Howell worked 33 2/3 innings and allowed nine earned runs and 23 hits, with 19 walks and 47 strikeouts. He held opponents to a .188 batting average and was named to the TCL All-Star team.

The Tide duo anchored the Marshals pitching staff that led the TCL in wins (26), innings pitched (406 2/3), strikeouts (402) and fewest home runs allowed (11).

Smith hit a team-leading .290 (36 for 124) with two home runs and 24 RBI in 36 games for the Marshals. Smith was third in the TCL in doubles (9), fourth in hitting (.290), fourth in slugging percentage (.411) and fifth in RBI (24). He was also named to the TCL All-Star team.

The success of the Alabama baseball program dates back to the turn of the century.

The Crimson Tide is the winningest baseball program in Southeastern Conference lore, with more than 2,000 all-time wins, 25 conference championships, 19 NCAA Regional appearances and five trips to the College World Series.

Since his arrival to the Capstone on June 4, 1994, Jim Wells had continued that tradition of excellence and in the process has set Alabama records for most coaching appearances and most coaching victories on the baseball diamond.

This year, Wells was inducted into the Alabama Baseball Coaches Association Hall of Fame at the organization's annual meeting and awards banquet at the Birmingham Sheraton Hotel on Jan. 16, 2009. With the ABCA honor, Wells now belongs to two Hall of Fame groups, including his alma mater, Northwestern State. The Demons also retired her jersey (No. 17) during the 2003 season.

Wells begins his 15th season in the Alabama dugout this spring and is the longest-tenured active SEC head coach.

He has compiled a 588-300 (.662) record in 889 games at Alabama and is the school's all-time winningest coach. He set that standard with his 488th victory on March 3, 2006 as the Tide downed Appalachian State at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. Two years ago, Wells set the UA record for most games by a head coach with his record-breaking 823rd game at Mississippi State on May 18, 2007 in Starkville. Dr. Barry Shollenberger held the previous school record in both categories.

Overall, Wells begins his 20th season as a Division I head coach, where he has compiled a 782-389 (.668) record in 1,171 games.

In his 19 previous seasons, Wells has won five regular-season conference championships, eight post-season conference championships and taken 14 of his 19 teams to NCAA Regional play, with three teams (1996, 1997 and 1999) advancing to the College World Series.

Alabama played in its 11th NCAA Regional in 14 years under Wells last season, advancing to the 2008 Conway (S.C.) Regional as the No. 3 seed. The Crimson Tide went 35-28 last season, including a 16-14 league mark, which was second in the SEC Western Division and tied Kentucky for fourth place in the overall standings. Alabama won its last five SEC series, including wins over No. 22 Florida and No. 6 Georgia to close out the regular season.

The Crimson Tide captured the 2006 SEC Championship with a 20-10 league record. Alabama (44-21) won its sixth NCAA Regional championship and fourth under Wells and played in the NCAA Super Regionals for the second time in school history and first since 1999.

Alabama has won six SEC Tournament (1995, 1996, 1997, 1999, 2002 and 2003) titles during Wells tenure.

Wells has twice been named SEC "Coach of the Year" (1996, 2002) by his peers. He was named Southland Conference Coach of the Year three times. The Bossier City, La., native was named Alabama's 29th head baseball coach on June 4, 1994.

The tradition of Alabama baseball goes back into the 19th century. Alabama has won more SEC Championships (14) than any other school. The Crimson Tide has also put more than 60 players in Major League Baseball, the best total in SEC lore.

Wells made his mark on that Alabama tradition with his first season in 1995. And, he has been building on that foundation ever since. Alabama wrapped up his rookie season (1995) with a 42-23 record and its first national ranking since 1991. Along the way, Wells directed the Crimson Tide to a school-record tying 18 SEC wins and the 1995 SEC Western Division Tournament Championship. The Tide posted four consecutive come-from-behind wins in four days to win its first post-season tournament since 1983. UA's 8-7 win over LSU in the tourney opener, snapped the Crimson Tide's 10-game tourney losing skid.

Wells also became the school's winningest first-year head coach when Alabama defeated Samford, 12-5, on April 5, 1995. It was his 22nd win for the Tide, breaking the previous record of 21 wins set by J.W.H. Pollard in 1907. In addition, his .646 rookie winning percentage was the second best in Alabama history. Tilden "Happy" Campbell posted a 10-2 (.833) mark in his first year for the Tide in 1935. The 1995 season ended with a runner up finish to Clemson at the NCAA East Regional on the Clemson campus. A hard-fought game with Clemson ended a story-book season that fell just one game short of the College World Series.

In 1996, Alabama won the SEC Championship. It was the Crimson Tide's first SEC title since 1983 and first regular-season crown since 1968. The Crimson Tide also landed its first-ever NCAA Regional at Sewell-Thomas Stadium and won that 1996 South I Regional championship with wins over Princeton, South Alabama, Stetson and Virginia to advance to the College World Series for the first time in 16 years. The Crimson Tide entered the CWS as the No. 1 seed and after a dramatic win over Oklahoma State in the first round, the Crimson Tide lost its next two games to Miami and Clemson and the season ended with a school-record 50 wins.

The following year (1997), Alabama put together its finest season in school history as the Crimson Tide won a school-record 56 games and played in the national championship game at the College World Series. The hard work by the Alabama coach and his staff paid off as the Tide mentor was tabbed Baseball America "National Coach of the Year" after that record-setting season.

Alabama shattered numerous school, SEC and NCAA records along the way to hosting its second consecutive NCAA Regional at Sewell-Thomas Stadium. The Crimson Tide won the NCAA South II Regional championship against the toughest six-team bracket in the 48-team field. The Crimson Tide posted wins over Troy State, Wichita State, North Carolina State and Southern California. The Shockers and Trojans were ranked in the Top 10 in the country while the Wolfpack held a Top 20 national ranking.

The Crimson Tide clinched its second straight trip to the CWS with a 9-8 (10-inning) win over USC in the South II title game. Matt Frick's two-out, solo home run provided the winning margin in what remains as one of the most exciting games in the Wells era. It was ironic that a home run would propel the Tide back to the CWS. The Crimson Tide hit a school-record 160 home runs in 1997, the third-highest mark in NCAA history. In addition, the Tide became the only team in NCAA history to have four players with 20 or more home runs. Dustan Mohr (25), Roberto Vaz (22), G.W. Keller (21) and Robbie Tucker (20) all eclipsed the 20 home run barrier in 1997.

The Crimson Tide also led the nation in runs scored (679), hits (860), total bases (1,571) and captured the NCAA statistical national championship with a .621 slugging percentage. The school-record clip was 100 points higher than the previous UA record set in 1983. Alabama's .621 slugging mark is the second highest in NCAA history. The 1979 Wichita State team set the record with a .625 slugging percentage. Alabama's 860 hits were the most by a Division I team since Wichita State pounded out 914 hits in 1991. The 1,571 total bases were the most since Florida State's 1,580 total bases in 1985.

In addition to his Baseball America award, Jim was also the recipient of the Sington Soaring Spirit Award, presented by the Sington Foundation. The award is named for the late Alabama football and Lisa, Lauren, Drew, Melissa and Jim Wells.

BOLD indicates first-round draft selection baseball letterman Fred Sington, who was one of the most distinguished sports leaders in this state's history. Wells is only the third coach to be honored, and the first baseball coach.

In 1998, Wells guided Alabama to a 46-18 overall record and a runner-up finish to Long Beach State at the NCAA West Regional at Palo Alto, Calif. The Tide entered as the number-two seed at the six-team regional, but lost 5-3 to the 49ers in the title game, missing its third straight trip to the CWS. Alabama also finished 19-10 in the SEC, which ranked them second in the Western Division behind LSU and third overall. Bama also finished third at the SEC Tournament, snapping its string of three straight post-season championships.

In 1999, Wells directed Alabama to its third College World Series appearance since 1996, posting a 53-16 overall record en route to a fourth place national ranking. He led Alabama to the best overall record in the SEC and posted a second-place finish in the SEC with a 21-9 league record, one-game behind league champion Arkansas (22-8). Wells led the Crimson Tide to its fourth SEC Tournament title in five years with a perfect 4-0 mark at 1999 SEC tourney. He directed the Crimson Tide to an undefeated NCAA regional post-season, winning all three games from Navy and Southern Miss (twice) at the NCAA Regionals in Tuscaloosa. The Tide swept LSU in a best-of-three NCAA Super Regionals to advance to Omaha.

Alabama set or tied 34 school records in 1999 and set the NCAA record with 13 home runs in a 30-4 win at UAB (April 14, 1999). For his efforts, he was named South Region Coach of the Year by the American Baseball Coaches Association.

In 2000, Wells guided Alabama to a 41-24 overall record and a sixth-straight trip to the NCAA Regionals, finishing runner-up to College World Series participant Stanford in the Palo Alto Regional.

The Tide's string of seven straight NCAA Regional appearances came to end with a 32-23 record in 2001, but the absence was short-lived.

After a one-year absence from the post-season scene, Wells not only returned his troops to the 64-team field in 2002, but he also landed the Crimson Tide the No. 3 national seed and the school's fourth NCAA Regional Tournament at Sewell-Thomas Stadium since 1995. The 2002 squad posted the school's fourth, 50-win season en route to the SEC Western Division Championship and SEC Tournament Championship. For his efforts, Wells was voted SEC "Coach of the Year" by his peers. The honor was the second by Wells at Alabama and the fifth time in his career he had been voted conference "Coach of the Year". He was named Southland Conference "Coach of the Year" three times while at Northwestern State.

In 2003, the Crimson Tide claimed its second consecutive SEC Tournament Championship with wins over South Carolina, Auburn (twice) and LSU at the Hoover Met. The four wins landed the Crimson Tide a No. 2 seed at the College Station (Texas) Regional.

After missing out on the NCAA Regionals in 2004, Alabama was back in the national limelight in 2005 with another 40-win season and a trip to the NCAA Regionals. The Crimson Tide went 40-23 in 2005 and finished runner-up to No. 1 ranked Tulane at the NCAA New Orleans Regional played on the Tulane campus.

The Tide won its 14th SEC Championship and 25th overall conference baseball title in 2006 and captured the NCAA Tuscaloosa Regional Championship with wins over Jacksonville State and Troy (twice) to earn its second trip to the NCAA Super Regionals. Alabama lost both games to No. 5 North Carolina and ended the season with a 44-21 overall record. Alabama posted a 31-26 record last season and advanced to the SEC Tournament for the 11th time in Wells' 13 seasons as head coach.

Prior to being named head coach at Alabama, Wells compiled an impressive 192-89 (.683) mark at Northwestern State, his alma mater from 1990-94, where remains the school's winningest all-time coach. He was named the Louisiana Sportswriters Association 1994 "Coach of the Year".

In his five-year tenure at Northwestern State, Wells averaged nearly 40 wins per season and had the Demons in the NCAA Regionals two times. In addition, he was selected as Southland Conference Coach of the Year three times.

In 1990, Wells became head coach at his alma mater, Northwestern (La.) State, his first full-time collegiate coaching position. He inherited a program that had suffered 13 consecutive losing seasons in a state that was full of Division I baseball playing schools (13 to be exact). He won his first 20 games as a head coach at Northwestern State in 1990 and the following year (1991), he guided the Demons to the SLC Championship and a berth in the school's first-ever NCAA Regional, losing to Louisiana Lafayette and the eventual national champion LSU Tigers at Alex Box Stadium.

The Demons won back-to-back Southland Conference championships in 1993 and 1994 and participated in the 1994 NCAA Midwest I Regional in Stillwater, Okla. In 1993, NSU posted a 40-14 (.741) record, including an 18-6 conference mark. The highlight of the season was an upset of eventual national champion LSU. The Demons posted a 6-3 win over the Tigers in front of a record-crowd (3,388) in Natchitoches.

Wells guided the Northwestern State to a school-record 45-15 (.750) mark in his final season. The Demons also won the SLC, its third title in five years under Wells. NSU compiled an 8-3 ledger against Top 25 foes. The 1994 Demons set 19 school and SLC records.

Northwestern State University retired Jim Wells No. 17 prior to the Alabama-Northwestern State game on April 9, 2003 at Brown-Stroud Field. A large contingent of Wells' family and friends were in attendance for the pregame ceremony. In addition, Wells was inducted into the Northwestern State University Athletic Hall of Fame during the 2004-05 school year.

Prior to his days at Northwestern State, Wells spent three years as a graduate assistant coach at LSU. During his tenure in Baton Rouge, the Tigers posted a 143-57 (.715) record and two NCAA Regional titles (1987 and 1989). He coached outfielders and hitters on LSU teams that ranked fourth nationally and participated in the College World Series. Among the notables at LSU during Wells' three-year stay was 1989 first-round draft pick Ben McDonald and Albert Belle.

After coaching summer league teams while in college and then serving as head coach at Loyola Prep High School (1982-86) for five seasons, Wells landed his first collegiate job, serving as a graduate assistant coach for Skip Bertman at LSU (1987-89). His baseball career was enhanced by Boots Garland, a close personal friend of Wells and his father.

Wells earned his bachelor's degree in physical education from Northwestern State in 1980. He earned his master's degree in education and administration from LSU in 1989. Prior to his days at LSU, Wells was the basketball and baseball coach at Loyola Prep (1982-86).

Wells was born March 21, 1955. He is married to the former Lisa Breazeale of Natchitoches and has three children, Lauren, Melissa and Drew.

Long-time University of Alabama assistant coach Mitch Gaspard begins his ninth year on the Alabama staff and his second as the Tide's assistant coach and recruiting coordinator. He returned for his second stint with the Crimson Tide following the 2007 season.

Prior to that he spent six years as head coach at Northwestern (La.) State in Natchitoches, La. He compiled a 211-128 (.622) record in his tenure at Northwestern State. During those six years, he led the Demons to a pair of Southland Conference championships, one SLC Tournament championship and a berth in the 2005 NCAA Baton Rouge (La.) Regional.

In 19 years of coaching, Gaspard has worked with teams that have won eight conference championships, eight conference tournament championships, played in 15 NCAA Regionals and three College World Series.

In his first season, he guided his team to NSU's eighth conference title in 12 seasons as the Demons finished among the nation's best in pitching and fielding while finishing 43-17 overall.

In 2004, the Demons challenged for another SLC title before finishing second in the league. Northwestern was sixth nationally in stolen bases, 44th in the country with a team ERA of 4.11, 26th in double plays per game and the Demons batted a robust .296. NSU (33-23) won eight of its nine SLC series, including beating SLC champ Lamar, and the Demons averaged seven runs per game. Sophomore first baseman Bobby Barbier won Academic All-America honors.

The 2005 season was another banner year for the Demons and Gaspard. Having being named the SLC's Coach of the Year, Gaspard and the Demons steamrolled through the league schedule with a remarkable 22-5 record - 41-20 overall - setting a new conference record for most league wins in a season. The Demons won the league race by six games. The team also cracked into the national polls, continuously ranking in the NCBWA Top 35 and Collegiate Baseball Top 30. As a result of its success, Northwestern State was selected as an at-large participant to the NCAA Baseball Tournament where it finished 1-2 in the Baton Rouge Regional.

Gaspard continued the tradition of great coaches at NSU, surpassing the win totals of former head coach Jim Wells (1990-95), Dave Van Horn (1996-98) and John Cohen (1999-2001), all of whom are now head coaches in the Southeastern Conference.

During his days as Wells' assistant at NSU, the Demons won a pair of SLC titles (1993 and 1994) and played in the 1994 NCAA Tournament.

Gaspard was a pivotal figure as an ace recruiter and a shrewd tactician in the remarkable revival of the Crimson Tide. Alabama had four SEC wins in 1994, but after Wells and Gaspard arrived, the Tide won the SEC Tournament in 1995 and was one win away from the College World Series. By the time Gaspard returned to NSU, Alabama had earned six NCAA Regional appearances and three College World Series berths, including a national championship game loss to LSU in 1997.

In each of his seven seasons at Alabama, Gaspard molded the Tide into one of nation's finest defensive units. As the chief recruiter, he landed five straight Top 20 recruiting classes, including three Top 10 finishes in 1997, 1998 and 1999.

An all-state shortstop at Port Arthur Jefferson, he led his team to the Texas state title as a senior and then became the starting second baseman in 1985 for a first Skip Bertman-coached LSU team that advanced to NCAA Regional play. He played his final two collegiate seasons as a starter at second for the University of Houston, where he became an assistant coach in 1988.

Gaspard moved to Louisiana-Lafayette from 1989-92, helping the Ragin' Cajuns reach three NCAA Regionals and win three conference titles.

He and his wife, Kim, have two daughters, Brae (16) and Paeton (12).

Dax Norris, one of the cornerstones of the University of Alabama's baseball revival under head coach Jim Wells, begins his second season as assistant coach for the Crimson Tide.

He joined the Tide staff following the 2007 season after a sparkling 13-year professional baseball career with the Atlanta Braves and Houston Astros organizations.

A hard-nosed player, Norris brings that same work ethic to the field as an assistant coach, where he will work the Tide hitters and catchers and assist coach Wells with the pitching staff.

Norris played in 132 games for the Crimson Tide, including 122 starts, and batted .329 (177-for-538) with 10 home runs and 83 RBI. He added 39 doubles, two triples and 42 walks and compiled a .994 fielding mark as one the top backstops in school history.

He spent the 2007 season as an assistant coach at Niceville (Fla.) High School, where he worked under former Bama assistant coach Kevin Berry and tutored UA pitching signee Jimmy Nelson.

A journeyman minor leaguer, Norris played 11 seasons with the Atlanta Braves and Houston Astros organizations, reaching the Triple A level with both clubs. He played in 846 career minor league games and batted .265 (771-for-2,914) with 73 home runs and 421 RBI. He had a career-high 122 hits and 72 RBI for the Greenville (S.C.) Braves (Class AA, Southern League) in 2000 and smacked a career-high 15 home runs in Greenville in 1999. During the off-seasons, Norris ran his own hitting school in Florida.

A 23rd-round draft pick by the Atlanta Braves in 1996, Norris was a two-year starter for the Crimson Tide. He batted .283 (72-for-254) as a junior in 1995 with three home runs and 34 RBI in 63 starts. Norris was named to the 1995 NCAA East Regional All-Tournament Team at the Clemson, S.C., where he batted .316 (6-for-19) with two runs scored and five RBI in five games. He also turned in 36 errorless chances behind the plate.

He was elected team captain on the Crimson Tide's 1996 SEC Championship team that finished with a then-school record 50 wins. Alabama also captured the 1996 SEC Tournament championship at the Hoover Met and hosted the school's first-ever NCAA Regional. Norris led UA to its first College World Series appearance since 1983 during his senior year. He batted .370 (105-for-284) with seven home runs and 49 RBI en route to being named First-Team All-American by the Super Smith Team. He was also a First-Team All-SEC honoree and American Baseball Coaches Association All-South Region pick.

Prior to playing at Alabama, Norris was a two-year starter at Central Alabama Community College in Alexander City, Ala. A native of LaGrange, Ga., Norris was born Jan. 14, 1973. He is married to the former Rene' Simpkins.

CRIMSON TIDE SPORTS NETWORK

All the exciting action of Alabama baseball can be heard throughout the 2009 season on the Crimson Tide Sports Network.

The baseball network is a service of Crimson Tide Sports Marketing, which is a joint venture of Learfield Communications of Jefferson City, Missouri, and International Sports Properties, based in Winston Salem, North Carolina. Jim Carabin serves as the network's general manager, while Tom Roberts is the network's director of broadcasting.

For the 11th consecutive season, CTSM will carry the Crimson Tide baseball games on a state-wide network. The games are also available on the internet and select Southeastern Conference games will be aired on XM Satellite Radio. The Citadel family of stations in Birmingham and Tuscaloosa will serve as the network's flagship stations. In Birmingham, the Citadel stations include WZRR-FM (99.5) and WAPI-AM (1070). The new Tuscaloosa affiliate is WFFN-FM 95.3 with backup coverage from WTSK-AM 790.

Alabama baseball is also the topic of conversation each Monday night from 6-7:30 p.m. on the popular weekly call-in show "Hey, Coach!" Roberts hosts the program and chats with head coach Jim Wells and Alabama players each Monday night throughout the season. The show airs live from Buffalo Wild Wing's in Tuscaloosa. Fans can join the program by calling toll free 1.877.202.2262.

The Crimson Tide's unique 30-minute weekly sports magazine television program, "Crimson Tide This Week" shows highlights, interviews and previews on the Crimson Tide baseball team all season.

Chris Stewart and Mick Gillispie will call the exciting action of Alabama baseball this season on the 30-plus station network.

A veteran play-by-play voice, Stewart begins his 10th season on the UA baseball broadcasts. He was named the 2004 and 2007 Alabama sportscaster of the year by the National Sports-casters and Sportswriters Association (NSSA).

Currently in his 21st year in broadcasting, Stewart is working his seventh season as the Crimson Tide men's basketball play-by-play announcer. He also serves as the host for the network's popular 30-minute weekly television show, "Crimson Tide this Week".

During the college football season, the Fairfield native handles television play-by-play duties for Alabama's pay-per-view and delayed broadcasts on CSS. He also hosts the Tide's pre-game and post-game radio shows. Stewart also worked eight seasons as the play-by-play announcer for Birmingham-Southern College, where was the voice of the 2001 NAIA National Championship baseball squad.

A 1992 graduate of the University of Montevallo, Stewart is married to the former Christy Carmichael, and is the father of two children, Anne and Parker.

Gillispie is in his second season with the network. In addition to his baseball duties, Gillespie is also the play-by-play announcer for the Alabama women's basketball team.

Phillip Doyle former All-American placekicker was the Crimson Tide's first Freshman All-American in 1989.

Joe Sewell had a knack for this “funny game.”

That knack has made him the only player in Crimson Tide baseball annals to be inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in the quaint little town of Cooperstown, N.Y.

The only other Crimson Tider in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum is New York Yankees legendary broadcaster Mel Allen, who along with Florida alum Red Barber, earned induction in 1978 as the inaugural winner of the Ford C. Frick Award.

Inducted in the Hall of Fame in 1977, Sewell’s career spanned 14 seasons with the Cleveland Indians and New York Yankees.

From the moment he left the Capstone as student body president in 1919, Sewell’s major league career was the stuff dreams are made.

After leading the Crimson Tide to the 1919 Southern Intercollegiate Athletic Association championship, Sewell was selected by the Indians and signed with the New Orleans, La., team in the Southern Association.

The Titus, Ala., native made his major league debut with the Indians in the heat of a pennant drive in 1920, after their everyday shortstop was killed after being hit with a submarine pitch. Sewell rose to the challenge and batted .329 over the final 22 games of the season to help the Indians clinch the American League pennant.

Alongside future Hall of Famers Stanley Coveleski, Tris Speaker and Bill Wambagass, Sewell and the Indians disposed of the Brooklyn Robins in seven games, taking the 1920 series five games to two.

Sewell batted only .174 (4-for-23) in his first trip to the fall classic, but was solid in the field in all seven games helping the Indians lay claim to the World Series title.

He played 11 years for the Indians before joining the New York Yankees roster for the final three years of his outstanding major league career.

Sewell once again tasted greatness with Yankees in 1932, when New York beat the Chicago Cubs in the most talked about World Series in history.

The Yankees won 107 games in 1932 and swept the Cubs in the best-of-seven fall classic. The Yankees took the first two games at Yankee Stadium (12-6 and 5-2) before moving to Wrigley Field for games three and four.

In game three, Babe Ruth, a teammate and close friend of Sewell, made baseball history. And his fifth inning at-bat off Chicago hurler Charley Root is still the most talked about home run in baseball history.

Ruth slugged a three-run home run in the first inning and legend has it that after taking two called strikes in his third at-bat, the Sultan of Swat pointed to center field before he slammed a two-run home run over the head of Johnny Moore for what has become the most debated home run in the history of the fall classic.

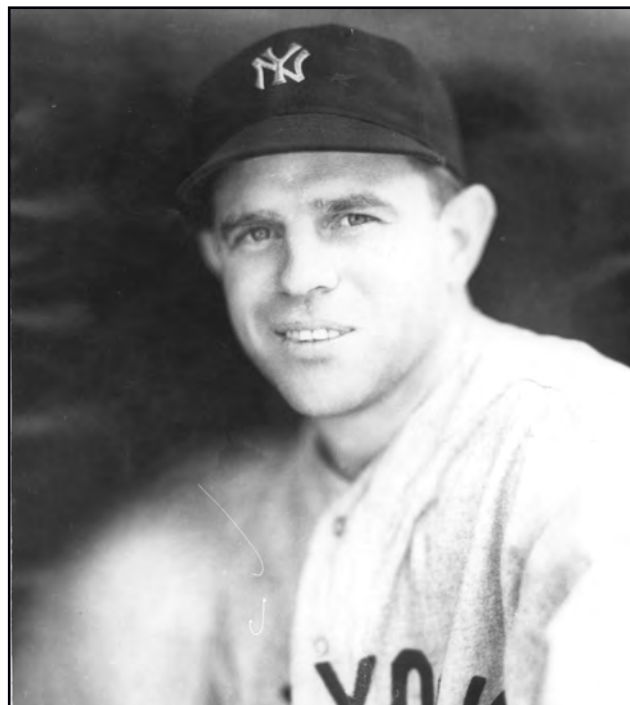

The Yankees won the game 7-5 and then closed out the Cubs the following day (13-6) to win the 1932 World Championship.

In a lineup filled with Hall of Famers from Frank Crosetti to Bill Dickey to Lou Gehrig to Ruth, Sewell batted .333 (5-for-15) in the four games with six runs scored and two RBI. He was on base when Ruth slugged his first inning home run in game three and witnessed the famed “called shot” from the Yankees dugout.

Sewell was also close friend and roommate with Yankee legend Lou Gehrig, whose career was tragically cut short due to ALS in the 1930s.

In 14 major league seasons, Sewell batted .312 (2,226-of-7,132) with 1,051 career RBI. He played in nearly 2,000 career games and logged over 7,000 at-bats for the Indians and Yankees. He also had more than 2,000 hits, 1,000 runs scored and 1,000 RBI.

He hit .300 or better in 10 of his 14 seasons in the big leagues. His best season was 1923 when he batted .353 (195-for-553) with the Indians. He collected a career-high 204 hits with the Indians in 1925, when he posted a .336 (204-for-608) batting average.

An outstanding fielder, Sewell led the American League in put-outs and assists four times in his career and led the league in fielding percentage three times.

A “singles hitter” overshadowed by some of the game’s greatest sluggers, Sewell set five major league records that continue to pass the test of time: fewest strikeouts in a season (3, two times); consecutive games without a strikeout (115 games); consecutive at-bats without a strikeout (437 at-bats); most seasons of 500 or more at-bats with fewer than four strikeouts (4); fewest career strikeouts (114).

Throughout his sparkling 14-year career at the pinnacle of the baseball profession, Sewell turned in numbers that are simply amazing to the average baseball fan. For instance, his 114 career strikeouts in over 7,000 career at-bats averages out to one strikeout for every 63 at-bats, one strikeout in every 16 games played.

And still years later, in 1964, at age 66, Sewell, a Tuscaloosa resident and businessman since his college days, took over the Crimson Tide’s baseball program as head coach. In his seven-year tenure, Alabama compiled a 114-99 (.535) record, which included the 1968 SEC Championship and a trip to the NCAA District III Playoffs in North Carolina.

Sewell was inducted into the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum in 1977, along with Ernie Banks, Martin Dihigo, Pop Lloyd, Al Lopez and Amos Rusie.

He is one of 11 Alabama natives to be enshrined in Cooperstown, joining fellow legends Hank Aaron (Mobile), Monte Irvin (Columbia), Heinie Manush (Tuscumbia), Willie Mays (Westfield), Willie McCovey (Mobile), Satchel Paige (Mobile), Ozzie Smith (Mobile), Don Sutton (Clio), Billy Williams (Whistler) and Early Wynn (Hartford).

Sewell died on March 6, 1990 in Mobile, Ala., after a lengthy illness. At the time of his death he was the oldest living baseball Hall of Famer at 91 years of age.

MEL ALLEN - 1978 FORD C. FRICK AWARD

Mel Allen is as much a part of the national pastime as the squeeze play, hot dogs, and pennants flapping in the breeze. And he never played in the big leagues. Instead he called the game, and that allowed the fans to play the games over and over in their minds. His voice is the voice that millions of fans associate with the game of baseball.

Born Melvin Allen Israel, the son of a traveling textile representative in Birmingham, and raised all over Alabama, he was a spin-dly student manager for the Crimson Tide football and baseball teams when he got his chance to announce games.

His first assignment behind the microphone was doing play-by-play of a football game between Tulane and Alabama, his beloved alma mater.

While a student at The University of Alabama, he sold shoes, coached speech and debate, and ultimately earned his law degree before winning an audition to announce in New York for CBS Radio.

After winning that audition with CBS in 1936, Allen broadcast his first World Series for the network in 1938. He joined the Yankees the following year and stayed for 25 more, delighting millions of baseball fans with his warm sign-on -- "Hello, everybody!" -- and his trademark phrases "How about that!" and "Going, going, gone!"

Allen was the Voice of the New York Yankees from 1939 to 1964, the team that aroused more passion than any other in baseball. With his vivid phrases and pleasing Alabama drawl, he called many of the great events in the game: the Babe's good-bye, Larsen's perfect game in the 1956 World Series, Mantle's heroics, Maris' record-shattering summer (1961), Casey's barbs, Yogi's convoluted pronouncements.

"Mel Allen meant as much to Yankee tradition as legends like Ruth, Gehrig, DiMaggio and Mantle," Yankees owner George Steinbrenner said. "He was the Voice of the Yankees."

In an era before television, millions of radio listeners around the nation saw the game through the descriptions of this thoughtful and articulate Alabamian who prided himself on being both a reporter and storyteller.

Allen moved to the Milwaukee Braves in 1965, went on to broadcast for the Cleveland Indians and handled a variety of assignments for NBC. He returned as the Voice of the New York Yankees in 1970s and began a 19-year association with This Week in Baseball as host of the popular program.

In his 58 years of sports broadcasting, Allen did it all. He called thousands of Yankees games, 24 Major League Baseball World Series, 20 All-Star Games, 14 Rose Bowls, five Orange Bowls, two Sugar Bowls, and over 2,000 newsreels.

A winner of numerous industry, listener and viewer awards, Allen is a member of National Baseball Hall of Fame (as the first Ford C. Frick winner in June, 1978), National (USA) Sportswriters and Broadcasters Hall of Fame (March, 1972), The American Sportscasters Association Hall of Fame (1985), The Radio Hall of Fame (1988), The Alabama Sports Hall of Fame, The University of Alabama Communication Hall of Fame (1995) and was enshrined to Monument Park at Yankee Stadium (July 25, 1999).

Once he sat next to a weakened Lou Gehrig in the dugout before a game. Gehrig would soon die from the disease that forced his emotional, early farewell from the game.

"Mel, sometimes your descriptions of the game are the only thing that keeps me going."

Mel went into the tunnel and cried like a baby.

How about that?

Never before or since has an Alabama baseball player had a season at the plate like David Magadan did in 1983.

The Alabama junior shattered school and Southeastern Conference records that still stand today in becoming the 1983 Golden Spikes Award winner, presented annually by the United States Baseball Federation.

Magadan, who concluded the 1983 season with six school career records (at-bats, runs, hits, RBI, doubles, total bases and batting average), was a major contributor in Alabama's national runner up spot to Texas at the College World Series. In addition, he paced the Crimson Tide to the NCAA South Region and Southeastern Conference titles en route to a 46-11 record, one the most successful campaigns in school history.

He batted an incredible nation-leading .525 (114-for-217) as a junior, was voted the 1983 College "Player of the Year" by Baseball America, and led the team in hits (114), doubles (31), total bases (180) and slugging percentage (.829) during his record-setting campaign.

Magadan was a consensus First-Team All-America selection by The American Baseball Coaches Association, The Sporting News, Baseball America and The National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association during the 1983 season and was a three-time All-SEC selection at the Capstone.

He hit safely in his initial 27 games as a freshman in 1981 and batted an incredible 10-for-11 (.909) at the 1983 SEC Tournament in Starkville, Miss., which included a five-hit game (2 doubles, 2 HRs) against Florida in second-round action en route to being named the Most Valuable Player. He also set the CWS record by hitting safely in his first eight trips to the plate and wound up batting .550 (11-for-20) at Omaha, Neb., in five games.

After his freshman season at Alabama, he led his American Legion team to the 1981 American Legion World Series Championship and in the process was named the "Sports Club Amateur of the Year" when Tampa Post 248 won the national title. Magadan is also recognized in the National Baseball Hall of Fame and Museum for his amateur accomplishments in 1981.

The Tampa, Fla., native played in 162 games in his Alabama career and batted .439 (268-for-610) with 64 doubles, 14 home runs and 188 RBI. His .439 batting average still ranks among the leaders in Division I baseball and still sits atop the SEC standings as the highest career average in league history.

Magadan still holds Alabama records for highest single-season batting average (.525, 1983), highest career batting average (.439, 1981-83), single-season hits (114, 1983), single-season (31, 1983) and career doubles (64, 1981-83) and single-season RBI (95, 1983).

He also set the Alabama standards for highest batting average for a freshman (.399, 1981) and junior (.525, 1983) and most RBI (95, 1983) by a junior.

Magadan also shares the single-game record with five hits, a feat he accomplished an Alabama record three times against Alabama Christian (April 16, 1983), Florida (May 13, 1983) and Arizona State (June 4, 1983).

He was drafted by the Boston Red Sox out of Tampa's Jesuit High School and then was one of six UA players taken in the 1983 MLB Draft. He signed with the New York Mets and was assigned to the Columbia, S.C. Mets in the Class A South Atlantic League in his first pro ball assignment. In that first summer, Magadan batted .336 with three home runs and 32 RBI for the Class A Mets.

Magadan made his major league debut against the Chicago Cubs on Sept. 17, 1986 as the starting first baseman at Shea Stadium. In the game, Mags went 3-for-4 with two RBI, including the game-winner in the eighth inning that clinched the National League Eastern Division title for the eventual World Champions.

In 1990, he finished third in the NL batting race with a career-best .328 (148-for-451) average.

He played 15 years in the Major Leagues before retiring from the game after the 2000 season. In those 15 seasons, he batted .289 (1,165-for-4,031) with 41 home runs and 483 RBI in 1,491 career big-league games.

After his playing days, he was named roving minor league hitting instructor by the San Diego Padres before being promoted as the hitting coach for the National League San Diego Padres prior to the 2003 season.

Andy Phillips is clearly the most decorated player in the history of Alabama baseball.

A member of coach Jim Wells' first signing class, Phillips rewrote the UA record books and in the process took the Crimson Tide baseball program to new heights with three trips to the College World Series in his four-year career.

His impact was not limited to the Crimson Tide baseball family as his talents were recognized nationally by writers, broadcasters and professional scouts.

A consensus All-America selection as a senior, Phillips was named the 1999 National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association District III Player of the Year and finished runner up to Baylor's Jason Jennings as the winner of the Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the NCBWA to the best player in college baseball.

Florida State's Marshall McDougal, Cal State Fullerton's Spencer Oborn and Rice's Mario Ramos were also finalists for the Howser Trophy, named for the former Florida State infielder and Kansas City Royals manager.

Phillips was also named First-Team All-American by the NCBWA as well as member of the 1999 NCBWA Super All-American squad.

In addition to the NCBWA honors, Phillips was also named First-Team All-American by College Baseball Insider and was Third-Team All-America selection by Baseball America, Collegiate Baseball and the American Baseball Coaches Association.

The Demopolis native wrapped up his Alabama career as the school record-holder in eight career statistical categories, including most games played (244), games started (224), at-bats (904), runs scored (222), total hits (322), home runs (61), RBI (226) and total bases (590).

In addition, he ranked second in career doubles (63) and triples (11), and was third in assists (537) and 10th in walks (86).

As a senior in 1999, Phillips set the standard of excellence for Crimson Tide baseball. He played in 64 games and batted .398 (103-for-259) with 22 home runs and 66 RBI. Phillips also added 71 runs scored 22 doubles, 30 walks and 16 stolen bases for an Alabama team that captured the SEC Tournament Championship and finished third at the College World Series.

He also set Alabama single-season records for total bases (203) and set records for most home runs (22) and RBI (66) by a shortstop at Alabama. The 22 home runs are the most by an Alabama senior.

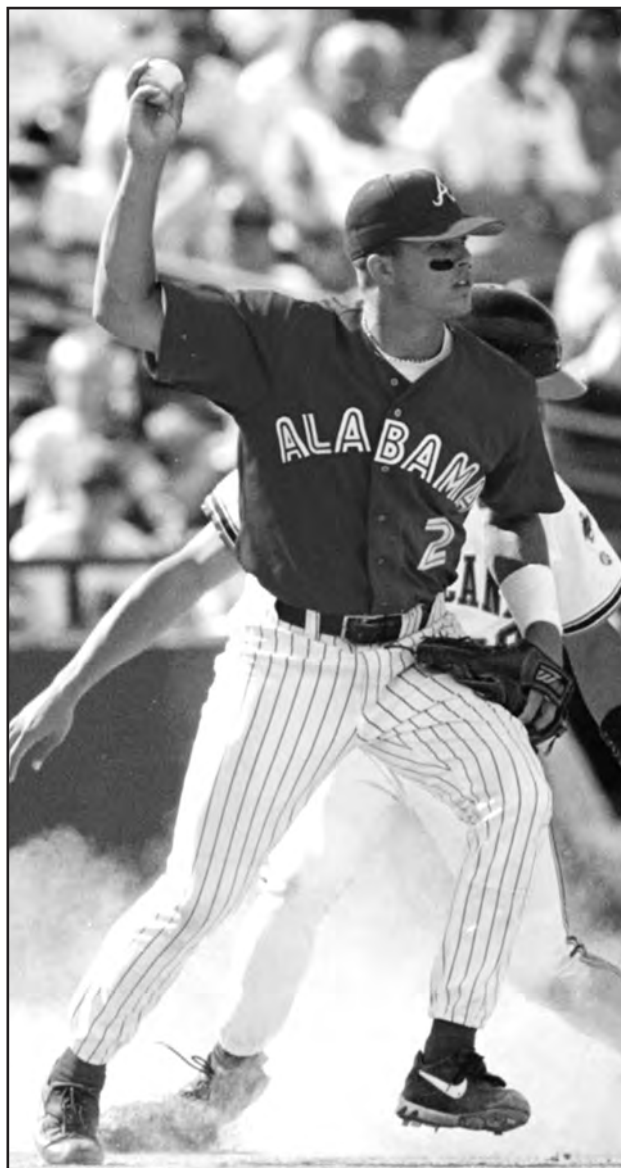

The former Tide shortstop also set the SEC record with a 36-game hitting streak during his final season at Alabama, breaking the old standard of 33 games held by LSU second baseman Todd Walker (1993).

During his record-setting hitting streak, Phillips batted .407 (66-for-162) with 17 home runs and 45 RBI.

In 1998, he was named The Sporting News National Player of the Week (April 1, 1998) when he batted .500 (8-of-16) with six runs scored, three home runs and 11 RBI in wins over Southern Miss and Miss. State.

Phillips was just as successful off the field, earning his degree from Alabama in 1999. He was an active member of the Fellowship of Christian Athletes and is accomplished singer. Twice during his career he sang the National Anthem prior to a Crimson Tide home game at Sewell-Thomas Stadium.

A three-time All-SEC selection, Phillips was also named to the 1999 SEC Good Works Team for his many hours of community service.

The most decorated catcher in University of Alabama baseball history, Jeremy Brown was named the winner of the 2002 Johnny Bench Award, presented annually by the Greater Wichita Area Sports Commission to the nation's best catcher.

"The Greater Wichita Sports Commission would like to congratulate all of the award finalists and especially Jeremy Brown, the 2002 Johnny Bench National Collegiate Catcher of the Year," Bob Hanson, President and CEO of the Greater Wichita Sports Commission, said. "Jeremy represents the University of Alabama in a remarkable manner."

Brown edged out Southern California junior Alberto Concepcion and University of Houston junior Chris Snyder to win the 2002 award.

"Wow, this is great," Brown said upon receiving the 2002 Johnny Bench Award. "I'd like to thank my family and my coaches for all of their support over the past four years. It's truly an honor to receive this award from the best acatcher of all time, Mr. Johnny Bench."

It is the highest honor awarded to an Alabama baseball player since David Magadan earned the 1983 Golden Spikes Award, presented annually to the best player in college baseball.

The Golden Spikes award is the baseball equivalent to college football's Heisman Trophy award.

Bench, a native of Oklahoma City, Okla., and Major League Baseball Hall of Famer, was on hand to present the award. Bench was the starting catcher for the Cincinnati Reds back-to-back World Series championship teams in 1975 and 1976.

Former Los Angeles Dodger first baseman Steve Garvey delivered the keynote address to more than 350 people in attendance at the Grand Eagle Ballroom at the downtown Wichita Hyatt Regency hotel. The banquet recognizes the achievements and dedication of local youth, high school, college and professional coaches in the Wichita area.

Brown was joined in attendance by his mother, Lila, and younger brother Dustin. Alabama head baseball coach Jim Wells was also in attendance to see his All-American catcher win the award symbolizing the best college catcher in the nation.

A two-year starter behind the plater for Alabama, Brown was a runner up to Baylor's Kelly Shoppach in the 2001 voting, is one of two Southeastern Conference catchers to win the Johnny Bench Award, joining LSU's Brad Cresse, who won the inaugural award in 2000.

A native of Hueytown, Ala., he appeared in 66 games for Alabama as a senior and compiled a .320 average (70-for-219) with 11 home runs and 64 RBI. He also set the UA single season record with 69 walks, surpassing the previous total of 66 walks held by Bret Elbin in 1983.

Brown made only one error for Alabama in his final 119 games at the Capstone. He set the UA single-season record with a 1.000 fielding percentage in 2001 and made only one error in 2002, compiling a .998 fielding clip.

He was second in the SEC with seven pickoffs and ranked among the league leaders by throwing out 43 percent of his attempted base stealers.

A first-round pick of the Oakland Athletics, Brown concluded his UA career as the all-time leader for games played (251), games started (251), runs scored (244), walks (207) and putouts (1,660). He is the only player in SEC history with 300 career hits (307) and 200 career walks (207).

In addition, Brown was named Second-Team All-America by the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association and was a First-Team All-SEC pick for the second consecutive year.

Brown was also chosen as the District III Player of the Year by the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association and was a finalist for the 2002 Dick Howser Trophy, presented by the St. Petersburg Area Chamber of Commerce and Verizon.

Beau Hearod went where few University of Alabama players had gone before.

The slugger from Jennings, La., had a phenomenal season and in the process led the Southeastern Conference in both home runs (20) and RBI (82) in his final campaign with the Crimson Tide.

A first-team All-SEC selection Hearod became the first Alabama player to lead the SEC in home runs since Doug Duke smacked a league-leading 27 four-baggers as a junior in 1986. Overall, Hearod was just the fourth player in Alabama history to lead the league in home runs, joining Stan Moss (7, 1968), Butch Hobson (13, 1973) and Duke as the league's home run champ.

Hearod was also the first Crimson Tide slugger to lead the league in RBI since Duke's league best total of 82 RBI in 1986.

After putting up those staggering numbers during the rugged 62-game season, which included 34 games against SEC teams, Hearod was tabbed as the District III Player of the Year by the NCBWA, marking the second consecutive year and the third time since the inception of the award in 1999 an Alabama player has been bestowed player of the year honors in District III.

Former UA catcher Jeremy Brown, a first-round draft selection by the Oakland Athletics and 2002 Johnny Bench award winner, was named the 2002 District III Player of the Year following an outstanding senior season. Andy Phillips, the school's all-time home run leader, won the inaugural District III Player of the Year award in 1999 and was one of the three finalists for the prestigious Dick Howser Trophy, which is presented to the NCBWA Player of the Year.

Other 2003 district winners included Boston College pitcher Chris Lambert (District I), St. John's outfielder Mike Rozema (District II), South Carolina lefty David Marchbanks (District IV), Ohio State pitcher Scott Lewis (District V), Nebraska first baseman Matt Hooper (District VI), Tulane first baseman and left hand pitcher Michael Aubrey (District VII) and Southern University shortstop Rickie Weeks (District VII), New Mexico first baseman Billy Belcher (District VIII) and Arizona State shortstop Dustin Pedrioa (District IX).

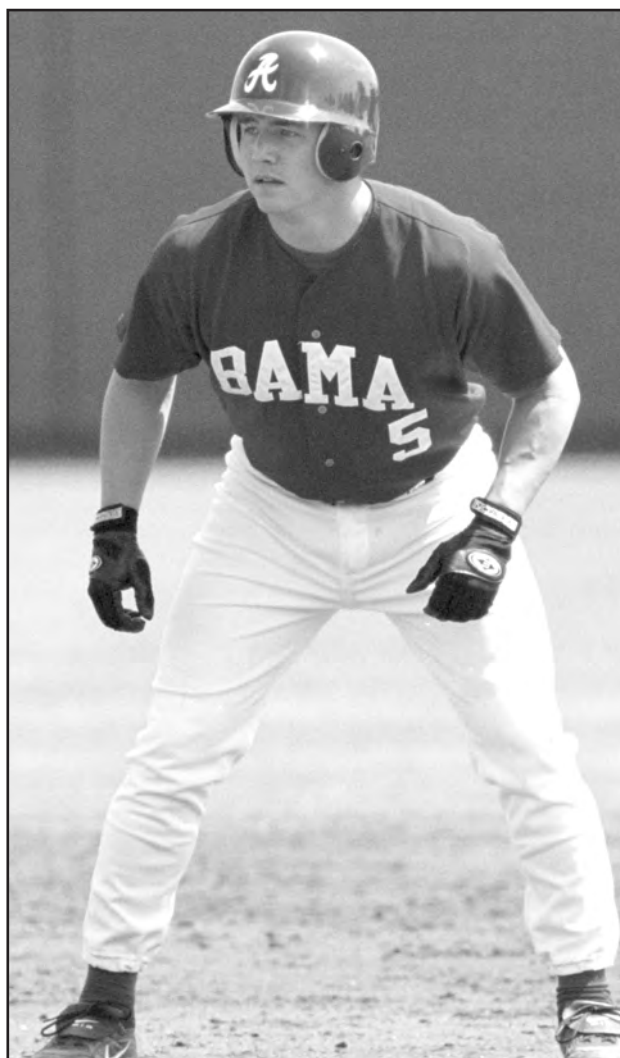

From the ranks of these standouts, Southern University's Rickie Weeks was named the winner of the 2003 Dick Howser Trophy.

As a senior, Hearod started all 62 games for the Crimson Tide and batted .346 (80-for-231) with 20 home runs and 82 RBI. He was also named the Most Valuable Player of the 2003 SEC Tournament at the Hoover Met, leading the Crimson Tide to its second straight post-season title and sixth under coach Jim Wells.

Hearod ranked ninth nationally in home runs (20) and 17th nationally with 0.32 home runs per game. He was sixth in total RBI and ninth with 1.32 RBI per game. He also led the SEC and ranked 27th nationally with a whopping .719 slugging percentage.

In his three-year career with Alabama, Hearod played in 177 games and batted .327 (210-for-643) with 40 home runs and 191 RBI. He also added 141 runs scored, 43 doubles, five triples, 61 walks and compiled a .595 career slugging mark.

He wrapped up his UA career with five grand slams, one shy of the school, SEC and NCAA record held by Mike Pitisci in 1984.

Wade LeBlanc had a freshman season like no other in the 111-year history of the University of Alabama baseball program.

The talented freshman left-hander racked up just about every post-season award available as he became the first rookie in Crimson Tide baseball history to earn National and SEC "Freshman of the Year" honors.

He was tabbed the 2004 National Freshman of the Year by Collegiate Baseball newspaper after being named the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year at the conclusion of the regular season.

"That's unreal," LeBlanc said when told of the news via telephone. "I thought I had a pretty good season, but the way it ended (against Mississippi State), I did not think I had any chance. I thought I had the ability to have a good season, but nothing quite like this."

LeBlanc said he thought the turning point in the season was the back-to-back wins against No. 6 LSU and No. 10 Florida in early May. He beat LSU 8-2 on May 1 in Baton Rouge and then shutout the high-powered Gators in Tuscaloosa on May 7, allowing just four hits and striking out nine batters.

"I guess the LSU and Florida games back-to-back really told me what kind of season I was having," he said. "This whole season was crazy, I never thought I would have a year like this and be named National and SEC Freshman of the Year. This is a great honor."

LeBlanc finished his outstanding freshman season as he set Alabama freshman records for innings pitched (112.2), strikeouts (98) and complete games (8) and tied the UA freshman record with eight wins on the mound.

In 16 games, including 15 starts, LeBlanc posted an 8-4 record and 2.08 ERA this season. He worked 112 2/3 innings and allowed 87 hits, 37 runs and 26 earned runs, with 26 walks and 98 strikeouts. He also threw eight complete games and pitched three shutouts for the Crimson Tide.

In addition to his freshman records, LeBlanc also ranks among the school's top 10 single-season leaders in several categories.

His eight complete games tied Gene Lary (1955) for second place on the school's single-season list. The three shutouts also tied Mike Innes (1968) and Drew Blocker (1974) for third-place on the single-season shutout charts.

LeBlanc's 112 2/3 innings pitched tied Dean Hayes (1983) for seventh place on the single-season innings list. The 98 strikeouts tied Jarrod Kingrey (1998) and Steve Shoemaker (1994) for 10th place on the single-season charts at UA.

In addition, LeBlanc was tabbed a Third-Team All-American by both the National Collegiate Baseball Writer's Association (NCBWA) and Baseball America. He was the only freshman named to the 2004 Baseball America All-American team.

LeBlanc was also named to the 2004 Freshman All-SEC team and was a Second-Team All-SEC selection as voted by the league's 12 head coaches.

SEBaseball.com tabbed also tabbed him as the 2004 SEC Freshman of the Year as well as a First-Team All-SEC selection.

LeBlanc was also selected to the American Baseball Coaches Association (ABCA) All-South Region team.

*SEC Champion was SEC Tournament champion from 1977-88 and 1994 and 1995.

The Southeastern Conference Baseball Tournament returns to Regions Park in the Birmingham suburbs for the 13th time overall and 11th consecutive year, May 20-24, 2009.

The SEC Tournament will follow an eight-team double elimination format that is modeled after the College World Series. The tournament field includes the top teams from the league's Eastern and Western Divisions plus six at-large bids based on conference winning percentage.

The tournament began in 1977 with the first and second place teams from the Eastern and Western Division meeting at campus sites to determine the league's automatic bid into the NCAA Tournament. In 1986, the SEC abandoned divisional play and the top four teams in the league standings qualified for the post-season tournament at campus sites. The 1990 SEC Tournament was played at the Hoover Met, the first off-campus tournament in league history.

The format remained the same until the league expanded to 12 teams in 1992. In 1992, the league went back to divisional play and invited the top four teams from each division to the SEC Tournament at the Superdome in New Orleans after Arkansas and South Carolina were added to the league.

The SEC instituted another change in 1993 as the league returned to divisional play and had two separate divisional tournaments over the next three years. The overall SEC champion and NCAA automatic qualifier was the team with the best conference winning percentage from the regular season, plus the post-season tournaments. Alabama won the SEC Western Division tournament in Starkville in 1995, the first of three straight tournament wins for the Tide.

The 1996 and 1997 tournaments were also eight-team events in Hoover and Columbus, Ga., respectively, but introduced one-game play-ins. The current format was adopted in 1998 and is being used for the 13th consecutive year.

Nine of the current 12 SEC teams have won at least one tournament championship. LSU heads the list with eight titles after last year's win over Mississippi in the championship game. Alabama is second all-time with seven tournament titles, with its last coming in 2003.

A total of 17 different head coaches have won at least one SEC Tournament championship. Alabama head coach Jim Wells and former LSU coach Skip Bertman have the most all time with six championships. Former Mississippi State head coach Ron Polk has five tournament titles. Florida has the most coaches to win the SEC Tournament with three, including Jay Bergman (1981), Jack Rhine (1982) and Joe Arnold (1984, 1988 and 1991).

Alabama has been involved in the two largest championship game crowds in tournament history. The Crimson Tide's 9-3 win over Arkansas in the 1999 SEC Championship game on May 23 drew 16,165 fans, the largest crowd in tournament history and second-largest crowd in Regions Park annals. The Tide's 6-2 win over South Carolina on May 26, 2002 drew 13,367 fans, the second-largest in title game in tournament lore.

Located eight miles south of Birmingham, Regions Park is regarded by many sports experts as one of the best of its kind in the nation. It seats 10,800 for baseball, but can accommodate over 16,000 when the patio, banquet and side grassy areas are used. The stadium also houses 12 suites and state-of-the-art dressing and training rooms. Wireless internet access was added in 2004, concourse and signage renovation was done in 2005 and a second-level pressbox expansion, new stadium seating and an exterior facelift in 2007 completed a $4.5 million renovation project. A new video scoreboard was added in 2008.

The 2008 SEC Baseball Tournament, held in Hoover, Ala. drew 124,139 fans. Four times time in the last six years the tournament has surpassed the six-digit mark in total attendance. The 2002 SEC Baseball Tournament total attendance of 124,440 was the largest total in tourney history.

The SEC will keep its conference baseball tournament in suburban Birmingham through 2011.

TIE-BREAKERS

SEC Tournament Seeding: The two division champions shall be automatically seeded number one and number two based on winning percentage in conference competition. The rest shall be seeded numbers three through eight based on winning percentage without regard to division. Ties will be broken in the following manner:

Two-Team Tie: When two teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used.

- (1) Won-lost results of head-to-head competition between the two tied teams.
- (2) If they are divisional opponents:
- (3) Won-lost percentage within their division (over the 15-game SEC division schedule).
- (4) Won-lost percentage of the two teams versus the No. 1 team in their division (and proceeding through the No. 6 team, if necessary).

If two teams are not divisional opponents:

- (1) Won-lost record of the two teams versus the No. 1 seed using common opponents only (and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary).
- (2) Coin flip by the Commissioner.

Three-Team Tie (or more): When three or more teams are tied for a finish, the following procedure will be used (in descending order until the tie is broken): Once the tie has been reduced to two teams, the two-team tie-breaker procedure as stated in No. 1 above will be used.

If all three teams are common opponents:

- (1) Total won-lost percentage of games played among the tied teams.
- (2) Won-lost percentage of the tied teams versus the No. 1 seed and proceeding through the No. 8 seed, if necessary, using common opponents only.
- (3) If three or more teams still are tied, the Commissioner will conduct a draw.
